McCunn's $60,000 Claim May Be Fought

That Dr. Drummond McCunn's claims for three more years of salary will be fought and that his permanent successor will be named before the end of the month are natural inferences from the Monday night meeting of the Contra Costa Junior College District board, according to William Kretzmer, board chairman.

First, the board named the firm of Long and Levitt of San Francisco to be its legal representative in any action taken by Dr. McCunn regarding his outstanding $20,000-a-year pay.

Secondly, the board passed up any opportunity to name an acting superintendent to take over McCunn's duties when his firing becomes effective at the end of June.

"The district attorney's office advised us to obtain outside legal counsel to deal with any action McCunn might take," explained Kretzmer. McCunn earlier hired his own attorney, Richard D. Sanders of Pittsburg.

ASKED IF this meant that the board intended to fight McCunn's claim for three years pay remaining on his contract, Kretzmer said:

"Your inference is drawn from our action. All I can say is that it may have a basis in fact."

The decision to hire the San Francisco law firm came after an hour's executive session during which the board discussed wage problems of the junior college district.

As is required by law, the results of an executive session cannot be put into effect until they have been announced at regular meeting. The board's normal meeting was opened with the announcement that legal help had been secured to provide advice and defend any action taken by the board.

The vote was 4 to 1 with Harmon Howard casting the opposition ballot. He was the lone dissenter in the firing of McCunn.

Queried about the status of a replacement for McCunn, Kretzmer was non-commital until he was asked pointedly if the lack of action in picking an acting superintendent was an indication that the board would probably make its permanent choice.

"THERE IS that possibility," Kretzmer admitted. "We have had no conference on the matter regarding a successor to Dr. McCunn but that does not mean such a meeting may be forthcoming before or during the next meeting on June 25."

Asked if there had been any applications for the job, the chairman replied:

"Only a couple. After all we have not advertised that an opening exists and the two who applied merely did so on the basis of what they had read in the newspapers."

Kretzmer admitted that he had several potential candidates in mind and added:

"I'm sure that all of the board members have been giving the matter a great deal of thought privately. There will undoubtedly be several suggestions made when it comes up for consideration in regular meeting."

FIRING OF McCunn came as a climax to a seven-month controversy which had its inception following a statement by the superintendent in which he commended the rightwing John Birch society for its stand against communism.

After the board gave McCunn his discharge two weeks ago, the leaders of the Taxpayers and Parents Association for Better Education sent telegrams to Washington asking U.S. Senate and House investigations of alleged subversive activity on the junior college campuses.

Possibility of recall action against the four trustees who voted to remove the superintendent from office also arose but so far no legal steps have been reported.

Report Stresses Consolidation of Judicial Courts

The cost of operating the present "inferior" court system of Contra Costa County will become greater and greater to the taxpayer, according to a report of the taxes and assessments committee of the Grand Jury.

The report recommended strongly that the county be divided into three geographical judicial districts, and that the judges be residents of and elected by their represented districts.

Such a consolidation, had it been approved when the report was first made in April, 1961, would have saved taxpayers $150,000.

"THIS FIGURE has now increased to $180,000," the report stated, and it will keep on increasing.

It urged that the consolidation issue be brought to the direct vote of the electorate.

The committee recommended that the four municipal courts and 13 judicial districts be reorganized into three judicial districts. The western one would have three judges, the central two judges and the eastern, one judge.

Very similar to the plan presented by County Administrator J. P. McBrien, the only change is that McBrien asked for one district with three divisions.

THE REPORT, in a special study of assessment districts, recommended the present screening procedure be maintained. It suggested that the county public works department check out work done within an assessment district.

Noting that the county tax rate is about average for the state, the report added that only half the county budget comes from property taxes.

It was pointed out to the committee that this county does not charge a personal property tax to the homeowner, as many counties do. (Personal property taxes are assessed to business.)

"Nor does this county charge for a county business license. The above items would have an effect on lowering the county tax rate."

The report also noted that the county tax rate would be lower if more than 15 per cent of the county were incorporated.

THE JURY report also asked for a study of the problem of sending the county tax bill to the correct owner of a piece of property when the property has been sold after March 1 each year.

A tighter check was suggested for persons asking for veterans' exemptions and an assessment for personal property.

Commending the assessor's office for using the latest method of appraisal and for the accuracy of its records, the jury recommended a raise for staff appraisers. In an effort to reduce the large turnover of junior appraisers, it was suggested that after two years they be given pay raises equal to civilians of equal status.

Duffel-Smoot Plans to Build a Condominium

In the office of Supervisor Mel Nielsen Wednesday night, Duffle-Smoot Companies made a presentation of their plans to build a condominium across from Miramonte High School.

Present at the meeting with Nielsen were representatives of the Moraga Valley Community Club and the Ranchitos, a group of homeowners in the Ivy Drive area.

"OUR REASON for this meeting was to inform the people in the area of the proposed development so that they can intelligently evalue it," said Nielsen.

"Before any such major project be adopted, the Moraga General Plan should be developed," said Charles Wright, president of the Moraga Valley Community Club.

A request to rezone from interim agricultural to multiple a large parcel of land across from Miramonte is the second item on the agenda at a public hearing of the County Planning Commission Tuesday night.

THE MEETING will convene at 8 p.m. in room 210, Hall of Records Building, Court and Main Streets, Martinez.

Duffel-Smoot, residents of the area, as well as Moraga and Orinda civic groups, plan to attend.

The Duffel-Smoot Companies (Joe Duffel and Joe Smoot with Jack Snow) are requesting to rezone portions of the old Rancho Laguna De Los Palos Colorados, now belonging to Utah Construction Company.

The parcel contains 16.5 acres, fronting on Moraga Way, and bordered by Ivy Drive and Hardie Drive.

Both the Orinda Association and the Moraga Valley Community Club will have representatives at the public hearing.

Eric Nielsen, president of the Orinda Association, stated that while the land in question is in Moraga, its proximity to Orinda, and its high school, makes it of vital concern to his group.

Richard Bartle, chairman of the Orinda Association Planning Commission, stated that there was enough multiple housing in the area. He said: "Pending development of a final Moraga General Plan, further interim zoning should be held."

DR. LEE NELSON, co-chairman with Robert Amber of the Moraga Valley Community Club's civic affairs committee, stated that the Moraga Study Group is having its final meeting in less than two weeks. "Postponement of a decision at this time would seem in the best interest of the community," Nelson said.

His committee is in the process of meeting with Boone Robinson, planning commissioner; Bestor Robinson, Utah Construction lawyer, and members of the planning staff for study, recommendations and revision of the Moraga General Plan.

George Reed, one of the principals of the study group, is leaving the county in a few weeks. Members of the study group expressed regret that Reed, a valuable member of the group, is leaving. They feel that it is imperative that a general plan be adopted before he goes.

Boys and Girls Can Earn New Bicycle Selling Sun

Boys and girls have an opportunity to earn a brand new bicycle, thanks to a special plan announced today by The Sun for all youngsters of the area.

It's not a contest! It's a legitimate method of earning a $49.95 Royce Union Racer by merely signing up 12 new subscribers to The Sun as published in Walnut Creek, Orinda, Lafayette or Pleasant Hill.

The brand new racer bicycle will be given to every boy or girl who sells 12 new subscriptions at the regular rate of $3.75 per year.

"All participants are bound to make money on the deal The Sun is offering them," said Publisher Herman Silverman.

If the boy or girl fails to sell enough subscriptions to obtain the bicycle, The Sun will pay them $1 cash for each subscription turned in.

Of they can sell less than 12 subscriptions and pay the difference in cash for the bike. For example, a boy or girl who gets five subscriptions can pay $25 cash and get the bicycle or someone obtaining 10 subscriptions needs to pay only $8 cash.

NOW'S THE TIME to get to work. Interested boys and girls should come to the offices of The Sun at 1320 Locust in Walnut Creek or 1001 Oak Hill Road in Lafayette and obtain their receipt books at once.

The offer is good only until until August 31. It's a money-making idea for the boys and girls and a great way to get the kind of a racer bicycle that every youngster has always wanted.

Permission from the parent or guardian is necessary to begin campaigning, so get the necessary slip signed up now and get busy on earning your $49.95 Royce Union Racer from The Sun. See the bikes on display at Simons in Walnut Creek.

Gun Battles, Burglaries In This Area

A gun battle in which two men received flesh wounds in the legs, a grand theft of $485 worth of automobile parts, some minor burglaries, and a case of arson, kept deputies of the sheriff's office busy last week in the mid-county area.

A Pleasant Hill man, Richard H. Wagner, 25, of 12 Allen Drive, is out on bail after he was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Wagner said he fired the gun only to protect himself after a fight with two San Jose men in front of his apartment house.

Investigation by sheriff's officers and men from the district attorney's office brought the charge that the shooting was not justified.

According to the reports, Wagner claimed the fight started when he went outside to investigate a beer can thrown outside his door. After wrangling with the two men, Wagner grabbed a .22 caliber revolver from his apartment and shot Buddy Stafford in the leg.

He said he shot Allen Rigsby twice in the leg when he tried to break down his door.

A preliminary hearing is set for Wednesday at Concord Municipal Court.

A new car belonging to Harley Johnson, 3713 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, was stripped of $485 worth of parts as it was parked in its stall at the apartment house sometime early Friday morning, officers said.

A stealthy burglar stole a wallet from the bedroom of Dwayne Davis, 3763 Mosswood Drive, Lafayette, and some money from his wife's purse Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Quick thinking by Custodian Jessie Starks of Oakland stopped a possible major fire at the Merriewood School grounds on Rohrer Drive in Lafayette last week.

Starks, seeing a blaze between the studs of an addition currently under construction at the school, doused it quickly with an extinguisher before it could spread further, the report said.

Family Night for Center At Sleepy Hollow Is Set

The Sleepy Hollow Recreational Association is holding its first family night of the season on June 22.

The bring - your - own - supper party, which begins at 6:30 p.m., is a get-together for the 350 families from Orinda and adjacent communities who own memberships.

This year's party will feature an Aquacade by members of the Athens Athletic Club.

The association's tennis courts, located at the end of Sunnyside Lane in Sleepy Hollow, have been in steady use throughout the winter.

The pool facilities have been available to members since May 26, with a full program of activities scheduled to begin when school is out.

Bruce Little, director of physical education at Inland Valley School, is the association manager.

Ben Robinson Earns 'Wings'

First Lieutenant Benjamin B. Robinson, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Robinson of 645 Augustine Lane, Lafayette, received his "Wings of Gold" during ceremonies recently at Ellyson Field, Pensacola, Fla.

He received his wings after successfully completing the Naval Air Training Command flight training program with Heilcopter Training Squadron Eight at Ellyson Field.

A graduate of Stanford University, Lt. Robinson entered the service in September, 1955.

Board Sets Date For Carroll and Pittman Rezone

The board of supervisors set July 3 as the hearing date for the Marian Pittman and Thomas Carroll rezoning requests.

May 22, the county planning commission denied by a 6-1 vote both Mrs. Pittman's and Carroll's requests to rezone their properties to multiple.

Mrs. Pittman, owner of the land on the northwest side of Altarinda Road, opposite Pine Grove Intermediate School, asked that the acre be rezoned from agricultural to multiple. Barnett and Wood were applicants.

Carroll requested to rezone his Moraga property from single family residential to multiple and retail business. He states that the northwesterly portion of the Carroll Country Club property, which was zoned multiple, was rezoned "without my knowledge or consent."

Supervisor Mel Nielsen is studying the requests.

Civil Service Group to Ask 5 Per Cent Hike

A five per cent across the board pay increase for the county's 2600 employees will be recommended to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors by the county Civil Service Commission.

Also included in the recommendation package adopted last week was an additional five per cent increase for 356 workers in 48 job classifications.

These jobs are those in which responsibilities have expanded or the private employment wage scale has outstripped others in the county, such as the laborers classification.

Cost to the county, if the supervisors approve the pay hikes, will be estimated at $1.1 million annually.

The commission split 3-2 on the recommendations, with Commissioners Arch Campbell of Alamo, Emil Christen of Pittsburg and John McCormick of Antioch forming the majority bloc.

Willim Ellis, of Richmond, who voted against it, said he favors a $50 a month across the board hike as requested by the three major county employee unions.

Also voting against it was George Kelty of Martinez, who did not comment.

Chamber Installs Officers

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce installed officers yesterday at their regular meeting. It was at the Casa Orinda at 12:15 p.m.

Edmond "Ed" Amatrone, manager of the Orinda Sprouse-Reitz store, was installed as president. Ken Courtright is the outgoing president.

Elmer "Andy" Anderson, assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank, Orinda, is the new vice president. Clarence "Bee" Betz, public accountant, Orinda, will continue as secretary-treasurer.

The new board of directors is: Allen Winsor, fire chief; Anthony "Tony" Ferara, Black's Market; Irving "Bud" Leiber, public accountant; Bea Zavalney, realtor; Hazel Wilcox, importer, and Laura Mallory, postmaster.

Summer Session Registration Ends Monday

Final late registrations for a few courses still open in the Acalanes High School District summer session is Monday afternoon.

More than 900 students have enrolled so far and only classes that are not "closed" will be available Monday.

Acalanes district summer session principal Bill Teutschel estimates an enrollment of 1000 students.

Forty-one teachers will staff the summer program.

Classes meet from 8:05 a.m. until 12:20 p.m. at Acalanes High School in Lafayette. Students and parents must furnish their own transportation.

Supervisors Delay Action On Airport Luxury Motel

Because of strong protests by motel and restaurant owners seconded by the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce, the county Board of Supervisors put off for another week the decision to lease a portion of Buchanan Field for a motel site.

The board met last night to review again the figures in the two bids received from firms wishing to build the luxury motel. They compared those figures with those of nearby existing businesses. Then, Tuesday night, they will decide which one of the firms will get the nod, or if the whole project should be dropped or postponed indefinitely.

Opposition to the plan was led by Attorney Sam Hall who said the bids would result in unfair competition for other businesses.

Hall said the rate of occupancy at nearby Concord Inn is 62 per cent, not a particularly healthy level.

"There are other motel operators with a lower rate of occupancy." The total effect, he told the board, will be reduced earnings in the other motels forcing these businesses to ask and receive tax relief from the county.

William Francis, manager of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce, said developers of the proposed motel would have an unfair advantage because they would have to invest less at the start.

He objected to the "obvious unfair advantage" when the lessee is required to pay only a monthly construction rental during the first two years of the lease of $100 for use of nine acres of property.

Acalanes Tax—$1.79

Acalanes Union High School District trustees this week approved a tentative budget for the coming school year that will require an estimated $1.79 tax rate, depending on final determination of the increase in assessed valuation for the district.

The high school budget calls for a total estimated expenditure for 1962-63 of $3,690,480, up from expenditures of $3,216,785 for 1961-62.

Increase in expenditures for next year is attributed to an enrollment growth of 10 per cent, parallel increases in teaching staff to offset enrollment growth, built-in salary increments and raises of 3.3 per cent for teaching staff and 3.25 per cent for non-certificated personnel, plus an increase in insurance costs and retirement contributions by the district.

A final public hearing on the proposed budget is scheduled for early August.

IN OTHER ACTION this week Acalanes district trustees moved for a conference between the high school district and the Orinda Union Elementary District to discuss mutual school site needs in the north Orinda area.

The board approved non-certificated personnel raises of 3.25 per cent on the basis of a study of wages paid for similar jobs by other school districts in the area, and by local business, sanctioned time-and-a-half pay for non-certificated employees working overtime (excluding bus drivers and clerical employees), and accepted an 11½-day paid holiday schedule for non-teaching workers.

Rejected as "too high" were bids presented for remodeling work at Acalanes and Las Lomas High Schools. Bids totaled $70,000 as opposed to budgeted estimates of $54,000 for the work projected.

Members of the board expressed concern over the continuing labor dispute affecting construction at the district's new high school in the Rheem-Moraga-Orinda area, noting that continued construction delay could hamper the opening of school in September.

Planners OK New Rheem Subdivision

A subdivision proposed by Donald L. Rheem was unanimously approved by the county planning commission Tuesday night at Martinez. The subdivision will consist of seven lots on 7.8 acres, which is zoned single family residential.

The property is located in the Rheem area on Goodfellow Drive, between Alice Lane and Scofield Drive. Engineer for the development is Wilson and Company.

Manslaughter Is Charged

Denny T. Abenth, 17, of 123 Spring Road, was charged with manslaughter after his car smashed broadside into another vehicle at a Berkeley intersection early Saturday morning.

Henry J. Schmidt, 74, of Oakland, died three hours after being taken to Herrick Memorial.

Oakland police said Abenth had run a flashing red light before hitting the car broadside at Oxford and Cedar streets in Berkeley.

Abenth and a 17-year-old passenger suffered minor injuries in the collision.

El Toyonal Intersection To Be Widened

The Board of Supervisors approved Tuesday the Public Works Department item to widen 200 feet of the lower intersection of Loma Vista at El Toyonal.

The road will be widened about four feet for 200 lineal feet. Work will be started soon by the county at an estimated cost of $2850, according to the PWD.

Heigh Ho! Off To the Fair!

What Is So Rare As a . . .

DAY IN JUNE? Or is it January in June, a reverse on the song title, The swirling clouds of fog, Mother Nature's way of pulling the wool over our eyes . . . & shiver my timbers, but even the stalwarts of the Summer League Set are complaining. Comparing the prevailing winds at some of the school playgrounds to those at Candlestick Park!

JUNE'S COME . . . but it's hard to tell it for no bees hum. The crickets are too cold to chirrup & a piping cup of chocolate is all we stir up. There's no scent of flowers in the night & too few butterflies in flight.

But she's here! You can tell it by the wedding invitations. By the family talk of "Two Weeks With" vacations & the packing up of books (No more teacher's dirty looks!) & the schoolboy's sudden burst of jubilation!

YOU CAN TELL it by the ads for camp stoves, tents & thermos. For the lotions to help tan your tender dermis. You can tell it by the things you eat, asparagus & cherries, 39 cents a pound for PEACHES. Buy the berries!

BY the windblown fields of wheat, by the sandals on your feet, by the busy Florists fashioning corsages & the summer furniture coming out of storage in garages.

BLOW YE WINDS, Hi Ho. It's June, alright, I know. You can tell it by the Graduate in white. By the bride. (Starry-eyed.) By the commencement speakers' pride. A tossed bouquet & Father's Day & Year Book signing & Finals whining.

JUNE IS something borrowed, something blue, a Lifetime to look forward to—A champagne toast, a college boast, & Chapter 20 of Emily Post. All these things are June, for sure . . . but where, oh WHERE is her TEMPERATURE?

The Prevailing Wind: From "The Superintendent Reports . . . the School Board trustees accepted RESIGNATIONS from 28 teachers . . ." As we hear it, TWENTY-SEVEN of them are joining The Stork Club! Can it be? Which reminds us . . . NEW Owen of the Heaven To Eleven shop is Mrs. Juanita Schuster who plans for a July move to the new Klemmendson Bldg. at Santa Maria Center where more space will allow for larger stock. Oh, those fetching things for Little Folk. As GBShaw DIDN'T say—It's a shame to waste children's clothes on children. They do get them so sticky!

OVERHEARD Kudos for Klemmendson, Architect, from all pts. People say his buldg. was just MADE for that corner—or vice-versa. Whether one agrees w/the architect ural lines or not, it fits into that spot, distinctively unobstructive. NOT SO, let's face it, other too utilitarian new Bldgs.

Are we all playing Blind Mice—or as Somebody said, it's like The Emperor's New Clothes, w/everybody smiling but nobody feeling the box-look contributes to the community. A building may be distinctive, yes, but not for Orinda . . . like Peretti's real estate signs which belong on Van Ness Ave's Auto Row—or out East 14th Street on a Car Lot!

Several Points Made . . .

WEST POINT STORY: A few years back, The SUN ran a story about the acceptance to West Point of one Arthur Thomas Fintel who made the grade along w/two other area boys, the latter fellows both hailing from a long line of Brass & Braid. In the '62 June class, one Arthur Thomas Fintel graduates w/honors, a member of the Dean's section & you know who's PROUDEST of all? His Grandfather, Tom Courtright, that's right! Thomas D. Courtright of the same sizable clan.

COME BACK, Little Sheba . . . Only Sheba isn't so little, in this case being the horse belonging to the Jim Davison's Joanne who brought it home to bunk in the backyard for the night & then went off baby-sitting (to pay for its feed!) Meanwhile, back home, brother John, readying to study, looks out the window, sees the horse, looks out the window again & No Horse! No time to horse around, says John, making a mad dash outside & yelling at the little kids on the corner—"Where did it go?" Their very words were "It went Thataway" & sure enough. There was the horse grazing on Westerfield's lawn. It took some doing but John finally roped our girl Sheba & led her home.

DOMICILE DATA: The Timothy Barretts (of the big Transportation Clan) are new to Hardy Drive in the Diablo Estates area & wait till he gets a load of OUR (his) transportation problems!

CAMEO CANDIDS: Pretty Ann Wood shopping w/her little son Timmy, he of the red hair & the peaches & cream complexion . . . Joyce Burchell dipping daughter Dana into the Park Pool, this ten-monther a cutie of a Kewpie doll!

Cook's Tour: Virginia Barkelew who's been on a cook-book binge since living in Europe, took down her French Cook Book to find an Interesting Way to prepare the green beans to go with their Picnic Supper (vitamins, you know!) Daughter Claire came upon her Mom thumbing through the book & cried "Mother" in that exasperated tone that daughters use—"You're NOT going to fix FRENCH Hot Dogs now, are you?"

SEIGRID BACHELOR, blonde wife of artist Johnathan Bachelor, cut quite a swath at the recent Art Show at St. Mary's when she turned up w/snapping eyes & Valkyrie-wonderful wearing a flowing black cape above which rose her pretty neck wound up in an ace-bandage (due to a whiplash injury during a recent accident). The finishing touch was a lengthy lorgnette, sequined & elegant which she waved about much in the manner of a Kit Cornell & which caused plenty of wonderment . . . The truth of the matter is it was part of a broken pair of specs glued on to a chopstick over which her artistic husband sprinkled a bit of glitter & sequin. Now why don't YOU Dare To Be Different!

ARTIST GLORIA BROWN is having a show at J. F. Howland Associates, 728 Mtgy. St., S.F. w/her paintings, described "a strong personal statement w/magnificent color & color relationships" to be up for viewing through July 6.

Dr. Carl Wellington Smith & his Ramona are readying a new retreat for themselves in charming Bolinas . . . The Jess Longs home from Coronado-conventioning, the Jack Gilmours, Hal Bateses due home from theirs in Colo . . .

SMALL WORLD for Jean Henderson's European junket—Stateside, she saw former Orindans, Gwen & Bob McGill, staying w/them in Chicago where they live nr. a lake for swimming & boating . . . Libby Ballard, another former resident, came down from Connecticut to NY to meet Jean & Julia for lunch. Kirk Miles called their Gotham hotel & said he was bringing a lady friend along. Turned out to be Jeaneette Wright who was there making arrangements for her dghtr. Jean Bodfish's wedding (which took place LAST wknd. incidentally, after her Wellesley graduation). The Touring Company of Two Hendersons went down to Alexandria, Va. to guest w/Vern & Sylvia Ramsing, former next-door-neighbors on Loma Vista here. All this & still not to Europe where they stayed w/Jean's cousin Helen & The Jones Girls (who'll come home in September) in Switzerland. The George Clifford's son Bicky met them in Paris, billeted at the same hotel & breakfasted & went sight-seeing w/them every day.

WHERE THE LITTLE BOYS ARE: The Walt Jamesons welcomed a new Danny boy making it their 5th child, 4th son . . . The Albert Hillmans on Loma Linda Ct. have a brand new fellow in the house & the new young man Steven Sharrard at the Robert Lucas home on Donald Drive will get his flight wings early. On July 6, only a month old, he'll move to Switzerland w/the rest of the family!

THE BIG TRIP . . . Soignee Hazel Wilcox (The Imports By-'girl) & sedate Nan Barich of Village Square Fashions took off last wknd. for the Buyer's Mart & Show in San Fran. Petite Hazel looking so much The Part of the Big Importer, etc. tripped along on her very high heels toting a huge box of silks. Time for the grand entry & ooopsy, daisy, there went Hazel, hat, heels & box of spilled silks flying over a big marble coffee table. All she has to say about her buying spree—"Some Trip!"

Del Rey Has Special Flag Day Program

Del Rey Elementary School had a special Flag Day program yesterday. There was a traffic patrol parade honoring the flag, and a special awards presentation for creativity.

Sid Smith, president of the Del Rey Parents Club paid tribute to H. Z. Nyland, principal, for his efforts to promote patriotism by honoring the flag. He pointed out that, "It is especially fitting to combine ceremonies honoring patriotism, creativity, and initiative, the most needed activities in our nation today."

Eight students were chosen for the award along with two honorable mentions. Awards were made to Janet Jonte, second grade, for a poem and picture; Roy Bowers, fifth grade, for his suburban farm; Fred Sigworth, fifth grade, for a public address system; Linda Mauser, sixth grade, for an art exhibit.

Bruce La Vigne, sixth grade, and Barry La Vigne, fourth grade, for a school newspaper; Doug Schrock, fourth grade, for a butterfly collection; Bobby Kerns, fourth grade, for a telegraph set, and Laurie Nielsen, third grade, for an illustrated original story.

Honorable mention went to Mary Schmidt and Ann Parody, sixth grade.

To be named for an award, a student must embark on a project on his own initiative, outside the normal school requirements. The project must have required significant effort and it must embody some novel or creative approach on the part of the student.

Vacation Home Protection Is Fully Explained

A few precautions taken before you leave can help safeguard your home against vandals and thieves while you are on vacation this year, the California State Automobile Association points out.

Some simple rules to follow include:

Notify your police department of the time you are to leave and the time you plan to return. Be sure to let the police know if anyone is authorized to enter your home while you are away.

Stop regular deliveries of such things as newspapers and milk. Experienced thieves are on the lookout for homes where newspapers and milk accumulate for several days.

IS YOU ARE going to be away long enough for your grass to grow noticably during your absence, arrange to have it mowed.

Arrange to have your mail held at the post office for your return by notifying the branch office which serves your particular mail route.

Make certain electrical appliances are unplugged and gas burners turned off.

Leave most of the blinds and shades open—just as you would if you were at home. A tightly shuttered house is an indication nobody is at home.

Leave an unobtrusive light burning, or install one of those devices which turns a light on at night and off in the daytime.

Leave a key with a neighbor, for use by police or firemen in an emergency.

Scouting Togetherness

TOGETHERNESS in Scouting is only a portion of the many pleasures the Donald Dunlop family share. Don Dunlop, his wife Marian, and their two youngsters, Bobbie, 12, and Kathy, 11, not only partipate in the scouting program together but all enjoy music and reap the fun and rewards from a small "ranch-farm" type home abounding with animal and agricultural life on four acres out Snow Court way in the Del Rey area.

An associate engineer at the University of California, Dunlop received his BA degree there in mechanical engineering. He is Scoutmaster of Troop 57, a recent newcomer to the Orlamo District ranks. This Sunday at the new St. Mark's Methodist church, the Troop will hold its Court of Awards at which time Patrol Leader Bobbie will receive his First Class Scout recognition. Marian Dunlop teams up with Kathy to serve as Assistant Leader to her daughter's Troop #232. The native El Pasoan, a music major at North Texas State, is an accomplished pianist, was vice-president of the Bay Area's Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity.

BOTH DUNLOPS sing in the Sunday choir for the Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church and Kathy and Bobbie put in their hours of practice on piano and trombone respectively. Together the Dunlops maintain a sizable So'Forty where they grow fresh vegetables, raise bantam chickens and guinea hens, have their own horse and tend ten sheep that graze picturesquely nearby in the pasture. Togetherness—the way it's meant to be . . .

Bill Lincoln, 100% the Father of the Week!

A LOVING CUP (engrave it "Father," please) for William W. Lincoln, better known as Bill, husband of Barbara and Pater to that big brood known as "The Lincolns"—ten children, which include a pair of twins, a set of triplets, just to make it the more and merrier.

A native Californian, the Pan American Airways flight engineer who'll celebrate his 25th anniversary with the company this month (He got his degree on Friday from Cal Poly, the following Monday, started work with PAA) flies all around the world, is sometimes gone from home over a week but rates a royal reception when he returns—ALWAYS with a family gift from some faraway place, which is ceremoniously received by the children as they circle around his suitcase.

THE GOOD-NATURED Bill hides eyes that twinkle merrily behind a pair of bushy eyebrows that one little lady barber in Japan has threatened to separate him from if he ever falls asleep in the barber chair. The eyebrows come in handy when you're raising a big family—like knitting them together—raising or lowering them in approval or admonishment. The children get the impression and Mr. L. doesn't have to say a word!

A TRIBUTE to this Dad whose home is a favorite gathering place for ALL, where especially the children's friends are welcome and the Lincoln youngsters take to their tasks and chores in willing cooperative spirit. Only last week, the cozy home on Kittiwake Road welcomed a hungry bunch of sleepy-eyed celebrants for a pancake breakfast after the Senior Ball.

ALL IS ORDER, Love, Help and Heart in this comfortable house. Bill and Barbara Lincoln have altered the truism that Marriage is Fifty-Fifty to Marriage is a 100% kind of a thing for each partner.

Although his globe-girding takes him away more than most fathers, Bill, when he's home, is always teaching, working or playing with the children; together with John Blaney built the benches at Santa Maria School; chauffeurs and shops, always maintaining a cheerful disposition.

LINCOLN, who happened to be on Midway when it was strafed and bombed on Pearl Harbor Day, comes pretty close to Heaven when he flies but comes Down to Earth for his favorite pastime—camping in the mountains with his family who take their housetrailer off at the drop of a road map.

WHEN IT comes right down to plain talk or Plane Talk, Barbara goes along with Bill. She can pilot a flying machine herself and does, with genuine interest and guidance from her husband.

County Building Suit 'Under Consideration'

Contra Costa County has filed a demurrer which it hopes will halt Anthony Lagiss' threat to the proposed $2.8 million county administration building.

Judge Homer W. Patterson took the county request "under consideration" at the close of an hour-long hearing Monday.

Patterson also granted the attorney for Lagiss time to file an additional brief. He said the brief would probably be filed in a week with a decision forthcoming on the matter in "two or three weeks."

The suit against the county was filed April 26 by San Francisco attorney Harlow P. Rothert. Lagiss, a Lafayette resident, charges the county's agreement to build the 12-story structure is invalid and violates the state constitution.

THE COUNTY is presently going ahead with plans for construction, giving approval to the agreement with the County Employees' Retirement Board which will pay for construction of the building and lease it to the county. The county would pay off the cost of the building on a monthly basis and be able to assume ownership after a period of years.

Lagiss claims that the contract would mean that the county would incur indebtedness exceeding its income and revenue for the current fiscal year without obtaining the approval of the voters.

Voters turned down a bond proposal for a new county administration building several years ago.

REPRESENTING the county, deputy district attorney George McClure asked dismissal of the complaint by Lagiss on the grounds that the lease is not a debt or liability exceeding the county's income.

A similar suit against Alameda County is being conducted by Lagiss' attorney. However, Rothert declined to delay action on the Contra Costa suit pending decision in Alameda. He told Patterson that "our position is stronger here."

The starting or construction date for the building is "indefinite" because of the builders' strike.

No restraining order has been issued by the court, however.

C. C. Plan For Airport Motel Is Hit

A full-scale protest against using Buchanan Field as a site for a motel complex was lodged at the Board of Supervisors meeting Tuesday by William Francis, secretary-manager of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce.

Francis pointed out that the Walnut Creek chamber did not feel that construction of the motel on county land was in the best interests of the residents and taxpayers of the county.

No mention of any effect on Walnut Creek's chance of getting a hotel convention center was made in the presentation. As Francis explained the objection was based entirely on the reaction of the ordinary citizen and property owner of Contra Costa County.

HERE IS the presentation before the supervisors:

"The board of directors of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce wish to be on record with the Board of Supervisors as being unanimously opposed to the method of development of public land as being considered in this matter.

"If the identical acreage were put on a public bid sale . . . purchased by a hotel developer . . . and the identical facilities constructed . . . there would be no objection! Thus, income would be in the general fund, and the property returned to the tax rolls.

"We feel a basic objection to the county government entering a field of services and development duplicated by complete private enterprise. It is our understanding that governmental agencies provide services, based on a tax rate, not otherwise provided on the same basis.

"It is the opinion of our directors that there is a degree of unbalance in the competitive factor, due to the proposed facility having the advantage of not investing the normal, total amount usually necessary for property acquisition. This advantage can thus be reflected down through the entire rate and price structure.

"THERE IS a question as to whether the lessees will be assessed county and district taxes, as would be assessed them were the nine acres of property on the tax rolls. This question arises since almost all competing facilities bear a full tax assessment as part of their operating overhead.

"There also seems to be an obvious advantage relating to investment cost during the first 24 months of the lease, when the lessee is required to pay only a monthly construction rental of $100 for use of nine acres of property.

"We are also concerned as to whether $750 monthly minimum ground rental compares favorably to an average return on the same valued acreage under terms of a private property ground rental.

"Our organization also harbors a fear of the future of such a development. This is based on the fact that the bid request was widely advertised in financial journals . . . and drew only two responses!

"A further unfavorable reflection on competition is that one bid stipulates a ground lease for the nine acres of only $1000 per year for the first two years . . . or until commencement of 'substantial operations!'

"AS TO OTHER segments of the bids, we would respectfully request publishing of estimates to the county's delivering sewer . . . water . . . and gas improvements to the perimeter of the property, since this would be an investment of tax funds.

"In this same vein . . . one bid requests the county to furnish widening of the frontage road to four lanes . . . to widen, improve, repave, and aesthetically redevelop the entrance to the airport . . . to supply all necessary top soil required to alleviate any drainage problem on the nine acres!

"Another section of one bid asks the county to agree not to lease, or permit, any motel-hotel-bar operation within a five-mile radius on properties now owned by the county or any of its political subdivisions over which the Board of Supervisors has control! In theory . . . this is a reverse request for competitive protection!

"Where does this type of arrangement end? One bid requests a five-year option on an additional eight acres of airport land . . . for possible future commercial development!

"We already have a recommendation to rezone all of the airport from controlled manufacturing to 'unrestricted district' development!

"As to the matter of dollars and cents . . . what is the net amount of money the county may expect to derive from this type of lease?

"1. Only two bids were received . . . which may be an indication of the potential as measured by most hotel development firms.

"2. One bid had what must be an optimistic projection of over $2,000,000 annual gross earnings . . . grossing the county $30,000. The term optimistic is used, since, on the surface, the projection lists over $613,000 income from 84 standard rooms.

"At even $20 per day per room . . . this is 100% occupancy! This projection is for the first five years!

"This point is raised to ascertain what the county government anticipates in gross income . . . and further what the net amount would be after certain specified outlays are made for the development by tax funds.

"Mr. Chairman, members of the board, our organization does not have a lengthy record of appearance before you to oppose items on your agenda.

"This is one of our rare presentations . . . and it is made to respectfully request your most serious consideration of this matter."

Social Science Teaching Hit at Textbook Session

Some 800 to 1000 persons, mostly supporters of recently-fired Superintendent Drummond McCunn, thronged to the "textbook discussion" last Friday night at Acalanes High School gymnasium.

Only once was the pre-arranged calm of the meeting ruffled. A student named Arthur DeViller was ousted from the scene by two older members of the crowd. After being escorted to the door he was permitted to return while a puzzled watchman looked on.

Although a blanket invitation was issued to the Contra Costa Junior College board of trustees and instructors, none of them were noted "among those present." Nor did Dr. McCunn, Contra Costa Junior College District superintendent and center of the controversy, put in an appearance.

Organized by Lyman Stoddard Jr., publisher of the Walnut Kernel, copies of a special edition of the paper filled with pro-McCunn material, were handed out to those who attended.

Stoddard was listed as moderator and at one time announced that the meeting would be conducted "according to Stoddard rules of order."

ASSISTING IN various roles were members of the Taxpayers and Parents Associated for Better Education. Most of the questions were posed by members of the group.

Frank Iszak, a Hungarian refugee who fled from behind the Iron Curtain with a hijacked plane in 1956, was the most colorful speaker on the program. He attacked the teaching of social science instead of American History.

Also appearing at the rostrum were reporter Ed Montgomery of the San Francisco Examiner and attorney George N. Crocker of San Francisco.

Originally the plan was to discuss textbooks used in social science class 110-111 at Diablo Valley College. Each of the three speakers took up some of the disputed books used as texts or reference material.

Iszak, educated in Hungary, insisted that it was wrong to teach social science instead of American history. He pointed out that Hungarian history books were destroyed by the Communists when they took over.

Much of his time was devoted to reliving his life in Hungary. He asserted that he felt it his duty to do everything possible to prevent American students from falling into the Communist trap.

ISZAK LASHED out at writings of George Bernard Shaw as being anti-capitalistic. He also criticized noted historian Samuel H. Beard's introduction to Karl Marx' "Communist Manifesto."

Newsman Montgomery insisted "there is a big difference between academic license and academic freedom" and declared that the Communist conspiracy is real and not to be taken lightly.

Montgomery also told the audience that one member of the governing body of the junior college had informed him that the firing of McCunn two weeks ago had nothing to do with either his criticism of text books or his stand on Communism.

"The public is entitled to know why he was fired if this is true," declared the newspaper writer.

CROCKER attacked Peter Blau's "Bureaucracy in Modern Society" and Richard Hofstader's "American Political Tradition."

He quoted a review of "Patterns of Culture" by Ruth Benedict, purporting the book to support Socialism.

Crocker also entered the field of psychology by asserting that Sigmund Freud's teachings had been discredited and charged with leading to irresponsibility. He suggested substituting Ralph Waldo Emerson for Freud.

The stated reason for last Friday night's meeting was to permit a textbook discussion which McCunn supporters charge was refused by the board of trustees.

Mass Polio Vaccine For County

Contra Costa County residents and physicians will join this fall, in the largest mass vaccination program in the history of the West, when 3½ million Bay Area residents will have an opportunity to wipe out the threat of polio to their lives.

Thousands of volunteer physicians will be available to administer the thoroughly tested Sabin oral vaccine to residents of six counties on September 23, November 4 and December 9.

Announcement of the vaccination Sundays was made Monday by the Bay Area Medical Association Committee, representing physicians of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco, Santa Clara and San Mateo County Medical societies.

Each of the three scheduled vaccination Sundays will immunize against one of the three types of paralytic polio. A nominal charge of 25 cents for each of the three doses will be made; for those who cannot afford the payment, there will be no charge.

SABIN VACCINE, which is taken by mouth and is sweet tasting, will be offered to babies from three months of age on up to the communities' eldest citizens.

Preliminary plans for the mass program were announced Monday at a briefing session in San Francisco by representatives of the Bay Area Medical Association Committee. Meet the press were Drs. Edward B. Shaw, Howard W. Lindsey, James C. Malcom. Other members of the committee are: Deane T. Adams, M.D., of Santa Clara County Medical Society; Eugene P. Shatkin, M.D., Marin Medical Society, and Harold Key, M.D. of Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association.

Dr. Shaw, chairman of the committee, represents San Francisco Medical Society. Dr. Lindsey, who is vice chairman is from the San Mateo County Medical Society. Dr. Malcolm represents the officers of the Bay Area County Health Departments.

Cooperating with the Medical Committee will be local steering committees in each community, seeking the aid of civic clubs, PTA's, Boy Scouts, school administrators. An estimated 78,000 volunteers will be needed, including physicians, pharmacists, nurses, medical assistants, members of hospital auxiliaries, all groups and individuals interested in destroying the threat of polio.

Three thousand to 4000 conveniently located clinic sites through the six counties will be set up to administer the Sabin vaccine, which has been fully approved by both the United States and California State Health Departments.

Those who are taking Salk vaccine injections during the summer should continue to do so as it gives important protection during the period polio most often strikes. The people who have completed their Salk inoculations are also urged to take the Sabin series.

The Sabin immunization will provide added protection, and also make it impossible for one to carry the disease and thus endanger others.

Lauds 9th Grade Gift for Cancer

Members of the ninth grade class of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center voted to contribute the sum of their weekly collections made during their religious school year just concluded, to the American Cancer Society.

The Contra Costa branch of the society today received the class check for $17.65 with a note saying, "The sum is small so it is more of a token payment in appreciation of the fine work you are doing."

Dr. Jonas Schreider, president, said the society appreciates the contribution of the class to further medical research and life-saving public education. He pointed out that both the amount and the thought of the ninth graders are considered an important gift by the society in Contra Costa.

Twining Loses Suit Over Cutter Contract

Charles M. Twining, former vice president of Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, was told recently by Alameda County Superior Court that a company contract was "valid and binding."

Mr. and Mrs. Twining live at 20 Valley View Drive, Orinda. Twining, 86, is now retired.

The contract states that his wife is to get, upon his death, a maximum of $36,500 for 1800 shares of his stock for which he was offered $450,000 in 1950.

Since going to work for Cutter in 1900, Twining had accumulated the stock. He turned the shares into the company's fund in 1940 under a contract providing his wife, Edith, a limited $36,500 inheritance.

Twining holds another 1800 shares, worth a market value of $800,000.

Area Children To Visit Circus

When youngsters and their families from central Contra Costa County (Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga, Alamo and Danville) munch on peanuts and popcorn while watching death-defying aerial feats, agile acrobats and educated animals at the Children's Hospital of the East Bay-Polack Bros. Circus July 6, 7 and 8, they will be contributing to the hospital's services for children who need medical help.

The forthcoming pageantry in the Oakland Auditorium arena is one of the major projects of the year sponsored by the hospital's branches to channel funds into a comprehensive part-pay program for children of a large group of middle and low income families who cannot afford private care and, yet, are not eligible for county aid.

Last year, out of a total of 33,647 visits to the outpatient clinic at Children's Hospital, 31,551 were part-pay, and 149 of these were from Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga, Alamo and Danville. There were 574 local children among the 6852 admissions for bed care, 22 of whom received their medical treatment under the part-pay program.

"The cattle kingdom" runs about 85 miles north and south, and 45 miles east and west. It is east of Tonopah.

Pischel is an agricultural consultant with offices in San Rafael. He will be managing partner of the ranch.

Pine Grove Boys Have Close Call

A Pine Grove Intermediate student came close—too close—to missing graduation this week.

Mark Anderson, 13, carried home a bomb given to him by a Pine Grove classmate, Monday afternoon. He put it on the shelf of his closet.

During the night, it exploded, shattering Mark's closet door and tearing out a section of the wall to the room of his brother Steven, 8. Neither boy was injured. Damage to the house amounted to several hundred dollars.

The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Anderson, 28 La Cuesta Drive, Orinda.

Orinda Fire Marshal Bill Kock said that the explosion could have been fatal if the four-inch piece of pipe which contained the bomb had been placed differently.

Lt. Norman Wilson, head of the juvenile bureau of the sheriff's office, questioned the boy who made the bomb. It contained common chemicals and gasoline and went off by spontaneous combustion.

Sheriff's Deputy Resigns Post

It was announced this week by Sheriff Walter F. Young that Deputy Sheriff Edward J. Bottini, assigned to patrol division, resigned his position as deputy sheriff effective May 31.

He joined the sheriff's department in November, 1957, and has been assigned to the rehabilitation center in addition to his last assignment.

Last Day Yesterday for Senior Class--Sob! Sob!

By ANN LINCOLN AND KITTY MIKA

It's been quite a month, and by this time the freshmen are sophomores, the sophs are juniors, juniors have reached the top, and seniors are back down to the bottom of the ladder again. June was really jumping, with parties, the Senior Ball, the Senior Banquet, and picnic, and a million and one other things. Senioritis caught and spread like wildfire, and settling down to study for finals was an impossibility for some of the happy graduates.

Seniors are glad thet they finally graduated, juniors are glad they're top dog, sophomores are glad they're upper classmen, and freshmen finally have someone to pick on . . . and all in one day—yesterday!!

Now info on the biggest night of the year (except graduation) the SENIOR BALL.

Dinner beforehand was the thing to do—so here goes!

Chris Felchlin served stroganoff to his guests Julie Winkworth, Ron Kay, JoAnne Warner, Steve Baker, Sally Skaggs, Robin Alvarez, Mary Hansen, Rick Merriam, and Toni Aires. Robin hadn't been too neat, so he washed his face in the finger bowl.

Sue Nattress, Paul McCresney, Dede Davis and Brad Harlan went to Brad's first and then to Pietro's for a spaghetti dinner. Bob Pothier and Sharon Nielsen had the same idea and went to Bertola's.

Ten couples were entertained in the Puka Room at Trader Vic's in Oakland. The couples, who incidentally ran up quite a bill because of all the almond duck they ordered, included Linnet Trefts and Steve Miller, Nancy Englehard and Mike McQuaid, Brad Peter and Chris Conner, Bob Williams and Nancy Bregar, Bruce Nickerson and Karen Stafford, Clint DeWitt and Barbie Brush, Phil Grant and Marc Jacobs, Wendy Wilcox and Dick Miller, Dwight Thompson and Sherry Odenthal, Grigg DeWitt and his date.

Others also there were Keith St. Clair and Jo-an Scholberg, John McIntyre and Bonnie Brooks, Sue Hammond and Rod McLeod.

Nancy Goebel had a dinner party at her home for her date Steve Rudolph, and Tara Doty, Pat Kelly, Linda Sears, and their St. Mary's dates.

Hap Parks, Linda Tierel, Dave Parrish, and Jane White enjoyed the cuisine of the Claremont in Berkeley.

John Reilly, Pam Pearson, Johnny Cooper, Mary Baker, Hester Harris, Mick Kazar, Mike Chance and his date enjoyed their dinners at the atmospheric Trader Vic's in San Francisco. John had Pam a little upset when he told her she could have two whole hamburgers at MEL'S for dinner.

Roger McCosker, Cherri Romer, Bill Schwardk, and Joan Barnes went to Nino's in San Francisco. Skip Spaich (Cloverdale cast and all), Jackie Villata, Greg Peterson, and Pat Canfield were entertained by Ben Blue at Bimbo's.

Katrina Holland also had a dinner before the ball at which she entertained Mike Gilmore, Judy Hopkins, Mike Rolley, Gary Holtwick, Nancy Henry, Sue Pollazek, and Jake Jacobsen.

Dancing under the moonlight (electric-lighted and revolving besides) to the dreamy music of Murray Peterson were multitudes of people. Some of the more noticeable Cinderellas in their floor length formals were Cherri Romer, Sue Wagner, Allison Hanford, Linda Tiefel, Betty Schoppe, Diane Fastabend, and Nancy Hanley. Some of the boys were pretty outstanding too . . . Perry Mann in his red tux, Jake Jacobsen in his derby, Brad Peters in his blue and green checked tux, and John Reilly with his luminous turquoise tie and cummberbund.

Karen Voll and her fluffy white stole rated oohs and ahs from Ken White and everyone else too. A few unmentionable girls seemed to appear at the ball in duplicate even if they had gone clear to Palo Alto and San Leandro to get "different" dresses.

A few of the evening's highlights were the Charleston, especially Bryan "Boats" Traynor and his date, "Midnight in Moscow," when everybody could do some twisting, and those crazy Barbershop singers.

Some of the teens seen smiling into Mr. Nenni's camera from their pose by the ivy-covered swing were Mike McGuire and Lani Freeman, Kathy Adams and Rick Outman, Elizabeth Davidson and Bill Caldwell, Karen Nattress and Dan Winthers, Tom Gaffaney and Carol Gilmore, Sue Brown and Ron Jouthas, Jeff Knudsen and Betsy Blossom, Mike Smyth and Cindy Gravelle.

After the big dance there were a number of parties including Rick Merriam's, Scott Hutley's, Keith St. Clair's, and Pat Kelly's. There was also a breakfast of pancakes (flipped superbly by Johnny Cooper) attended by Sue Nattress, Paul McChesney, Sharon Neilson, Bob Pothier, Dick Miller, Wendy Wilcox, Brad Peter, Chris Conner, Bob Williams, Mike McQuaid, Keith St. Clair, Jo-an Scholberg, and many, many more.

Sue Hancock, Pete Parrish, Bonnie Johnson and Jean-Michele Sicre watched the rain and listened to the thunder and music at the Tonga Room at the Fairmont afterwards.

What a night (and morning)! WOW!

The Senior Banquet with a western theme held in the cafeteria was another fun-filled, steak and potato-filled night. John Calderwood entertained the seniors with his hilarious piano satires. And THEN again there were Jim Rose and Jake Jacobsen keeping the entire audience virtually rolling on the floor with a will and prophesy skit. Sides are still aching!

The Diana's supper party at Oak Springs Country Club hosted quite a few Dianas and their dates. Tom Brooks band entertained, and we hear that John Calderwood kept hitting the piano at the wrong time—at least according to Pat Kelly, he did.

The fabulous meal and music were enjoyed by Cheri Jackson and Robin Alvarez, Suzanne Portello and Gary Holtwick, Joan Dirickx and Mike Gilmore, Katy Jones and Dick Sutliffe, Mary Schafer and Raoul Eriberri, Sue Starkman and Barry Hutchinson, Clarinda Telford and Steve Dudley, Barbara Schuster and Dean Munroe, Linda Sears and John-Michael Sicre, John Colderwood and Cecil Kettle, and even more. We hear that the picture-taking chaperone was in for quite a surprise when Pete Parrish snapped his picture.

Well, back a few weekends ago, and the highlight which was, of course, Keith St. Claire's party, and Sylvester. As usual, Sylvester was just great, and after hearing the groans from all those teens with sore muscles, it seems that everyone there took full advantage of his rousing music. Some 80-odd couples who drove all the way out to Lucas' ranch for the big function.

Just take a look at that smile (SHOCK) on Dwight Thompson's face—could it be because of a certain green 1957 Chevy???

Congratulations to the new leaders of Miramonte's bounding spirit—that is the yell leaders of the coming school year. They are Sue Fernston, Byrnace Thraikill, Roxie Smith, Larry Lahman, and head, Fred Neighbor.

Seniors—THIS IS IMPORTANT—save recipts from the Senior All Night for they will be used as parking permits.

Cheri Romer had a bang up slumber party for all senior girls last Friday night. Naturally, the boys were there until 12:30, and everyone seemed to be in a celebrating mood. Among the many dancing until they could barely stand up were Kathy Beconcini, Doug Rassmusson, Jo-an Scholberg, John Lathan, Nancy Englehard, Mike McQuaid, Sue Nattress, Paul McChesney, Sue Starkman, Bruce Nickerson, Sue Wagner, Jay Grilli and many more. A big thanks to the Romers for all the great parties they've had this past year.

A total of 12 groups have been set up for this younger enrollment, ranging from Monday through Thursday with three available time periods: 8 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 1:15 p.m.

Fees for the course for those 10 years old or more have been set at $8 for the summer session, which will be under the direction of Dr. Fred Ruth of Diablo Valley College and will be conducted at the campus with both lab and field trips.

FOUR GROUPS have been set up for this series, with lab courses at 9 and 11 a.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays and the field trips scheduled for Tuesdays and Thursdays at 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Many participants of previous workshops held by the Diablo Junior Museum have indicated an interest in this summer's activities and some of the classes are being designed to accommodate "repeat enrollees."

Boys and girls are eligible for any of the classes.

An assisting factor in the success of the junior museum is the cooperation of the parents who are asked to help provide transportation and assistance on making the field trips.

Both workshops will operate until July 28, the day on which the annual science fair is held.

$150 Million Industry Development in County

Contra Costa County will rack up a total of about $150,000,000 in announced industrial investment for the current fiscal year, according to the annual report of J. B. Towne, president of the Contra Costa County Development Association.

Towne's 5000-word report was presented to the association's annual installation dinner Monday night at Paul's Place in Martinez.

The affair, open to the public, was featured by the installation of James M. Gill of the Ethyl Corporation as president, and a talk by G. L. Fox, executive vice-president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

C. P. Tanner, junior past president, also installed seven vice-presidents, a treasurer and a corporate secretary.

TOWNE'S REPORT, embodied in the printed dinner program, reviewed the association's activities during the past year and forecast continued economic development.

Principal items in the total of plant investment for the past year are the announced plans of Pacific Gas and Electric Company for doubling of the capacity of the Antioch steam plant, a $73,000,000 project, completion of the power company's Alberta-Canada natural gas pipeline, start of work on Tidewater Oil Company's $20,000,000 isocracker, roofing and asphalt plants of Fibreboard Paper Products Company and Trumbull Asphalt Company at Martinez. Also, two additions to United States Steel Company's plant at Pittsburg totaling approximately $35,000,000 and announced expansions at Du Pont, Monsanto Chemical, California Research, Air Reduction Pacific, General Chemical Division of Allied Chemical, and other existing plants.

In addition, several millions have been spent on industrial land acquisitions and in smaller expansions and new plant construction.

Junior College Instructors in Wage Raise Bid

Salary increases amounting to $450 each for some 200 teachers in the Contra Costa Junior College District were requested Monday night at the regular meeting of the board of trustees.

Action was delayed pending study of the request.

A committee, headed by Arthur L. Widner Jr., asked that the annual increment for teachers be increased from $350 to $400, the differential between classes also be hiked from $350 to $400 and that an additional $400 "cost-of-living" increment be granted this year.

Widner estimated that the increases would add approximately $110,000 to the district's salary bill, exclusive of the $350 increment already assured. He asked that the formula be placed in effect for a three-year period.

WIDNER TOLD board members that the Contra Costa Junior College District is one of the wealthiest in the state from a standpoint of assessed valuation, it ranks only seventh in salaries among Bay area districts.

He said that the average salary for Contra Costa junior college teachers is now $7937, with a bottom salary of $5140 and a top of $10,230. There is no ceiling on salaries, however.

Widner asked the board to consider, on a long-range basis, lowering the number of academic semester units required of teachers to advance between classifications, and to increase the district's experience credit allowance for new teachers.

He suggested the possibility of lowering semester units from 30 to a Bay area average of about 16, and raising the experience credit allowance from three years to eight years.

Still in abeyance are new salaries for administrators and approximately 200 non-certificated employees.

Trail Riders Planning Camp For Late June

Bruce Lee, chairman of the junior group of the Concord-Mt. Diablo Trail Ride Association, announces a five-day camp and clinic, June 27 through July 1, at the trail grounds on the beautiful north slope of Mt. Diablo near Clayton.

This camp is open to all juniors, ages 10 through 17 years who own or have access to a horse, and who are interested in improving their riding ability and horsemanship in both English and western riding.

There will be morning and afternoon instruction in both western and English ring work. The camp will have the services of two outstanding horsewomen as instructors, Linda Lorimer of Oakland and Sylvia Amaral of Brentwood.

TRAIL RIDING over the many miles of scenic trails as well as time out for swimming in the olympic size swimming pool, will offer many hours of fun for the campers.

George H. Cardinet Jr. of Concord, past president of the State Horsemen's Association and the Trail Ride Association, as well as a qualified horse show judge, will act as camp director.

Assisting Mr. Cardinet will be Capt. T. W. Carrithers of Walnut Creek, president of the Trail Ride Association and Mr. George Tovani of Concord, co-chairman of the junior group.

A Few Vacancies Remain for YMCA Adventure Camp

Alan Lindsey, program secretary for the Mt. Diablo YMCA, announced this week that reservations are still being accepted for the YMCA Adventure Camp.

There are only a few vacancies remaining.

Any boy, age 12 to 14 is eligible for this fun-packed trip which is scheduled to leave June 18 and return June 27. The fee is $47.50.

Transportation will be provided by the YMCA truck.

The events included are: 1. Beach trip; 2, visit to Sutter's Fort at Sacramento; 3, four-day stay at Lake Tahoe where the boys can enjoy swimming, horseback riding and boating; 4, trip to the ghost town of Bodie near Mono Lake; 5, trip to Calaveras Big Trees State Park; 6, tour of Mercer Cave near Murphy; 7, tour of Moaning Cave near Vallecito. Lindsey will lead the group.

For further information or reservations, call the Mt. Diablo YMCA at YE 4-9070.

Proposed New Tax Would Hit Local Commuters

Many Contra Costa commuters will be affected if the proposal to levy a 1 per cent payroll tax on all persons earning money within the City of Oakland's boundaries is adopted.

Oakland councilmen are considering the proposal by City Manager Wayne Thompson, although opposition has been expressed by the Alameda Central Labor Council, and Oakland businessmen are not expressing immediate favor.

The proposal was made by Thompson as Oakland fathers were trying to figure out how to raise some $42 millions, the amount needed to balance the 1962-63 budget.

Thompson indicated, however, that passage of the new tax would not be in time to solve the 1962-63 budget problems.

The Oakland councilmen also discussed increasing the city sales tax, which now stands at 1 per cent, but a number of complications were mentioned.

The payroll tax within Oakland would apply to city residents and non-residents. Under such a system, employers would be required to set up a withholding program and make payments monthly or quarterly.

The new tax would be equitable, said Thompson, because non-residents use Oakland facilities such as parks and libraries.

A representative of the labor council said the suggested tax would be " . . . even more repressive and repulsive than sales taxes and other consumer taxes."

Robert Ash, council executive secretary, said labor has been consistently opposed to such levies.

(Editor's note: See editorial page for Sun's comment this week.)

Armstrong Realty Into New Offices

Ernie Armstrong of Armstrong Realty has moved his offices to 1822 Mt. Diablo Boulevard. The move is necessitated by the growth of the firm from two salesmen to nine in two years.

The move will allow the expansion of the commercial department and allow the addition of a property management division.

Political Pot

Mutnick Won't Concede; Absentees Follow Count

Absentee ballots in the battle for the Democratic congregational nomination from the 14th district counted out on approximately the same scale as those cast during the regular polling day of June 5.

Charles R. Weidner added 212 more votes to his count to make the total 27,522 while his opponent, Harold E. Mutnick, picked up 209 to bring his total to 26,868.

Mutnick, a Lafayette attorney, earlier issued a statement that he would not concede Weidner's victory until the official canvass of the voting was completed.

THIS ACTION will take place next week since election commissioner James Olsson is required by law to send in the final and official totals to the secretary of state by June 30.

Weidner, on unofficial returns, is the victor by a slim margin of 654 votes. Election officials pointed out that it would take a large error to cause any real change in the standings.

In apparently winning the Democratic opportunity of running for the congressional representative post, Weidner asserted:

"I am deeply gratified that the Democratic voters of Contra Costa County have selected me as their candidate for Congress. My primary campaign was conducted without resort to personal vituperation, as will my campaign in the general election. The Democratic party will be fully united for an aggressive fall campaign.

"I want to thank the Democrats who voted in the primary, both for myself and for my Democratic opponent."

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

MORAGA LIONS' giant community luau Sunday from 1-6 p.m. gave the kings of beasts something to growl about. "Purrfectly grrrand" agreed the nearly 2000 who attended.

The Lions turned a portion of the Old Moraga Ranch into a Hawaiian Village, thanks to the generosity of W. Utah Construction Barnes, who loaned the site. It lent itself perfectly to creating an authentic island village in the midst of our valley . . . Palm fronds on the fruit-pickers' shacks . . . hula skirts, leis, straw hats, muumuus, print shirts on the natives . . . tappa cloth and exotic flowers . . . a luau to end all luaus . . . and even "Kane" and "Wahini" on the restrooms, which is about as "way out" as atmosphere can be carried.

* * *

CHIEF LUAU-MASTER Art Fleuti masterminded the first annual affair . . . and proved conclusively that he's the fiercest cook in the valley. Art's luau included Sheritaki, beef, pork and spare ribs (the meats prepared in Chinese ovens), yams, bananas, lomi lomi salmon, papaya, poi, etc. Incoming president John DeGuarda was co-chairman with Art, an artist at the range.

Back in the kitchen, with cold feet and bleeding hands, was Clare Fleuti and other Lionesses. Cracking the whip over them (as well as peeling crates of potatoes, tomatoes, etc., themselves) were Commander Hank Martin and John Mekonis. Two of the gals who almost never saw the light of the luau for their culinary chores were Trude Martin and Marg Howard. Those gals deserve a hibiscus for k.p.

* * *

CELEBRITIES in our midst included 49er assistant coach Mark Duncan and 49er scout Roy Gilbert (Moragans during late summer football training at St. Mary's) . . . Orinda Fire Chief NJ Winsor, incoming president of Orinda Rotary with Mrs. W. . . . Outgoing O. R. president Mario Albo and Verna . . . Public accountant and O. C. C. wheel Bud Leiber, Doris and the kids . . . Ed Vanducci of Ed's Place, El Sobrante . . . Russ Reed, photog. for the Oakland Trib . . . Johnny Gonsalves, middleweight contender for champ . . . Matt Howard of the Diablo Valley Breakfast Club (his Cec put together his Lion-topped straw hat masterpiece) . . . Jim (Dalkey's Restaurant) Smith and Delores . . . former Oakland police chief Gene Murphy, wife and poodle. (Gene won a quart of olive oil).

* * *

All of the Lions worked like dogs. A few who deserve special mention (with their ladies) are publicity chairman Jack Taylor and Daphne . . . President Jim Barcelon and Cecil . . . Secretary Ernie Siri and Val . . . Carver John Sanders and Helen (John carved nearly 400 lbs. of spareribs).

NON-LIONS who gave their all to the cause (which benefits the blind) were Manuel Freitas, who won a bottle of wine . . . Roy and Adele Gessinger, who left early to attend the baccalaureate for Judy at Miramonte . . . Bill and Noreen McCaskill. Bill, the librarian at St. Mary's, who took care of wiring and taping the music . . . Irv Moore, who donated the coffee.

BUSY BAKER Jack Neldam and Pat, who contributed so much time and bakery, left early to sail in their pale blue new Lincoln Continental to the Ambassador in Hollywood. President of the Natl. Bakers, Jack will participate in a week-end "Break Bread with the World" confab. And then Monday, he's off to Chicago—leaving Pat at home—to bake those Neldam Cream Dream Cakes, we trust.

* * *

DANCIN' SCHAMANCINI . . . Enar Oumania's 5-piece professional Hawaiian Band and Hula girls did a sensational twist to the Hawaiian War Chant . . . Rivaling the pros were the Hula-Lanis' ten homemakers imported from Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Danville. The girls get together and hula for a hobby, according to their director, Louise Cabral, who did a mean Hilo Hattie. Others in the troupe are Opal Muller, Esther Baldwin, Betty Lou Hood, Claudia Kirby, La Verne McCarthy, Lily Alleman, Barbara Tarkington, Jan Bing and Alison Hood (a junior member who did a beautiful "Hula Hands" . . . The red-haired hot-dog vendor threw his hip out of joint doing a sidewalk twist . . . Pat O'Brien, a Du Monte dance instructor, did a solo dance to Enar's music.

HAPPY SIGHTS: Eleanor and Wayne Dalzell looking fit after respective stays in l'hospital . . . Clancey and Ginny Evans with son Bruce and his Barbara, who have bought a home in Lafayette after living most of their marriage in the Islands. Granddaughter No. 1 Jan, in a green hula skirt, stopped the show . . . Marion and Ray Devin with daughter Heide and her fiance, Lloyd Vinsonhaler. Ray is in training to walk down the aisle of Orinda Community Church with Heide on June 23 . . . Three-year-old Doug Heinl won his mother a salami by pitching baseballs . . . Irv Kolkhurst and Hank Boeger of the Horsemen's Assoc., manning the beer booth to show their gratitude for the Lions' help at their chow coral.

* * *

FAMILIAR FACES. Bert Bennett, the sorriest looking beachcomber in captivity . . . Lee Nelson with a flower coyly behind his ear . . . Don Bryant about to take off on a business trip to the real Islands . . . (this trio of sports were with wives and children, too numerous to mention) . . . Bill McElhinney in a stunning straw . . . Duane and Irene Anderson . . . Ed and Mary Hicks . . . Bill and Berniece Glueck . . . Floyd and Ruby Mooney . . . Norma and Bob Frances . . . Helen and Dave Lank . . . Marie and Charlie Wright (with their little boy, minus curls, which explained the tear in Marie's eye.) . . . Elaine and Leo Reade, she wearing a fresh rose lei, Sharon-made.

The Bob McGuire and Hank Martin collective families took up an entire picnic table. The Martin girls, Mary, Judy and Janey, looked lovely in grass skirts; and the four Martin boys looked hungry. Welthy McGuire could scarcely lift the fifth and youngest McGuire, even though the young Amazon is not yet one.

* * *

THE LIVESTOCK that got away: Buzz Homsy, being a good neighbor, brought home to Ernie Dickson the live chicken which he won. The chicken got away and a spirited chase through Rutherford Park ensued with some 50 neighborhood children, Ernie and Buzz vs. the chicken. When it was finally captured, Ernie refused his prize—which hardly seemed like a sportsman-like thing to do.

As George Boeger was loading the shetland ponies into the trailer, one of them broke loose. He ran hell-bent-for-election along Orinda Way and back into the orchard before he was coralled, half-an-hour later.

Two cryptic comments by wives of Lions sums up their feelings re: Operation Luau: "We could surprise the men with a picnic dinner for Fathers' Day—but who'd dare to cook for them?" . . . "I'll be glad when this is over. I'm getting tired of swallowing."

And so the first annual Lions' Luau is history . . . school is out . . . and all's well in Moraga?

Bank Has One-Man Show Featuring Robert Jensen

Orinda artist, Robert Jensen, currently has a one-man show in the gallery of the Lafayette Federal Savings and Loan Association, 3631 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Oils and watercolors are the media most frequently used by Jensen, who prefers to paint seascapes. He took second place award for watercolors in the recent Pageant of Arts and his painting, "Berkeley Pier," now on display has won two awards, a first prize and an honorable mention in area art shows.

Currently teaching at Oakland High School, Jensen is a native Californian and has taught in East Bay schools for 14 years.

"We feel that the current exhibit is one of the finest we have had in the gallery and hope the public will take this opportunity to come in and view the paintings," said Harry Morrison, association president.

Shows are arranged monthly through the courtesy of the Valley Art Center.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from weariness and fatigue will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" will include this verse from Isaiah (40): "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

One of the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 217): "The scientific and permanent remedy for fatigue is to learn the power of mind over the body or any illusion of physical weariness, and so destroy this illusion, for matter cannot be weary and heavy-laden."

The Golden Text is from Psalm 91: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."

PRESENTLY A freshman at Holy Names College in Oakland, Rosemary continues an active interest in scouting by assisting the leaders of junior high troops 341 and 107 in Orinda.

This exchange program is under the joint auspices of Girl Scouts of the United States of America, the German Girl Guide Association and the Experiment in International Living.

The program places importance on having its exchanges spend a month of their visit living with one family.

ROSEMARY WILL live with a German family during the first month of her visit. Following this, she will visit West Germany with the American Senior Girl Scouts and an equal number German Senior Guides.

Most of Rosemary's expenses will be paid by the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund established in honor of the founder of GSA.

THIS TRAVEL project is part of the Girl Scouts International Friendship Program which has been a major aspect of scouting since the founding, 50 years ago.

During the past six years, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. has received more than 700 International Girl Guides and Scouts and has sent 1000 scouts abroad in an exchange involving 51 countries. In 1961 the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council hostessed two visitors, one from Denmark, and one from Greece.

Oakland Payroll Tax Would Hit Us

Oakland's proposal to levy a one per cent city payroll tax on persons who work within the city, including thousands of Contra Costa commuters, prompts us to wonder where all this will lead.

The Oakland city fathers are evidently at their wits' end figuring how to meet a $42 million budget for 1962-63, and the estimated $10 millions to be realized from the proposed new tax looks mighty good, even though it would come too late to solve this year's immediate problem.

The payroll tax would be levied on all persons making money within Oakland's city limits. Residents would pay their tax based on earned income and net profits obtained in the city and also in unincorporated areas.

CONTRA COSTA commuters, not living in Oakland but only working there, would pay a tax only on the income earned within the city limits.

The reasoning given by supporters of the new tax is that our commuters also use Oakland city facilities like parks and libraries.

Even Oakland business and property owners who live within the city are waiting for more details on the new tax proposal, and the Alameda County Central Labor Council has branded it as "stupid."

In Contra Costa, the tax per $100 assessed valuation is higher than in Oakland. The additional tax to assist Oakland, when we have our own problems, should receive scrutiny on our side of the tunnel.

OAKLAND IS ALSO considering raising its sales tax, which would be equitable for Contra Costans. But Oakland leaders are worried about the impact on their businesses, and other complications.

Contra Costa commuters also pay county taxes, sales taxes, special district taxes, state taxes, federal taxes and others.

Once Oakland adopts a city payroll tax, what's to stop San Francisco from levying a similar tax? All cities, large and small, have money problems.

And what's to stop the various counties, including Contra Costa, from considering payroll taxes. The counties need money, too.

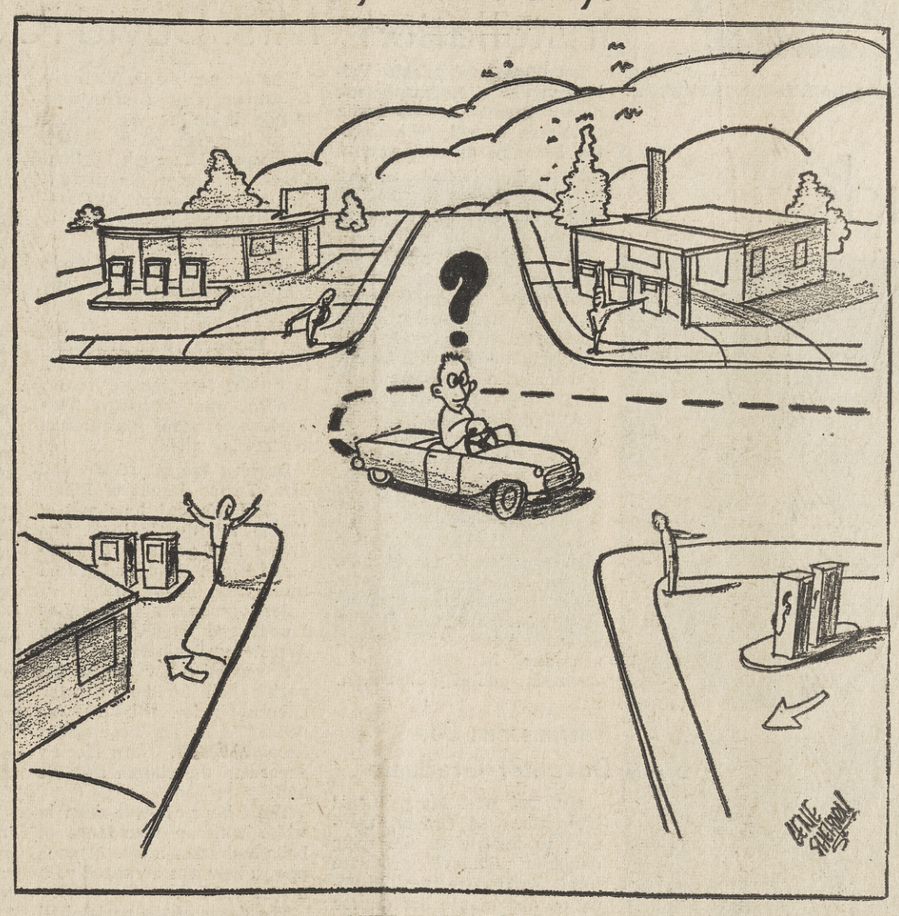
OF COURSE, there are many Oakland residents who come to Contra Costa to work in the construction and other trades, and they would then also be taxed by an agency out of their home areas.

Is this part of a new trend toward widening the tax base of many governmental bodies?

The Christian Science Monitor last month carried a story favorable to widening the county tax base from real property to sales, and by implication, payrolls.

The article says, " . . . one of the most urgent needs of county government in the United States is additional revenue . . . "

Why So Many?



(SEE EDITORIAL)

Subversion Charges Should Be Heard

Charges that there are subversive activities being conducted at the Contra Costa Junior College District are damaging to the district's reputation, and should be heard by the board of governors, as soon as a new superintendent is hired and has time to get his feet on the ground.

Statements that there are "socialist-inclined" textbooks and teachers in the district were made at the same time the governors were trying to decide what to do about District Superintendent Drummond McCunn, and his administrative disagreements with both his top administrative officers and the teachers.

The "socialist" statements, with or without merit, clouded the entire issue of McCunn's competency.

Now that McCunn has been discharged, the board of governors should be able to hear presentations pertaining to textbooks and alleged socialist-inclined instruction with some hope of reaching sound conclusions.

Some persons believe McCunn raised the textbook question as a screen to cover his shortcomings as an administrator.

Others believe there are teachers and texts in the junior college district which directly or indirectly favor socialist thinking.

Is the junior college district in danger of losing $1 million in federal aid to education funds because certain courses in the district are not conforming to the Education Code's mandate on the teaching of American institutions and principles?

If any groups have solid materials showing there are "subversive activities" in the district, they should present those materials to the college board of governors for evaluation.

Contrary to some claims, the Contra Costa Junior College District board is basically a conservative board.

With the McCunn problem set aside, board members should be able to evaluate the textbook claims with balanced reasoning.

Subversion charges can also be taken to the county grand jury for evaluation.

Certainly in most all colleges in the country there are instructors and professors who are considered "ultra-liberal" just as there are others considered "ultra-conservative," with the result that students learn about all economic and governmental systems, and hear discussion favoring all theories within the spectrum of American democracy today.

Shall we keep the students unknowing, hoping to avoid "damaging" their minds? And what is college for, if not to study controversial theories and develop well-grounded approaches to the problems of life?

A New Trend? . . .

A recent action by the Contra Costa County Planning Commission should reinforce The Sun's earlier statements that it is time that oil companies begin to police themselves in the location of new stations where the existing stations are already too numerous.

The county planners in an unprecedented move turned down an application for a service station land use permit in the Alamo Plaza Shopping Center on Danville Highway.

The 5-2 decision was based solely on the fact that the commissioners felt there were already too many stations in that area.

Many community leaders also agreed with The Sun that there are too many service stations. Repeatedly their operators go out of business after a year or so of struggling.

The sponsoring company is not affected by the station manager's financial problems, and merely employs another manager.

We realize the meaning and implication of free enterprise and competition and its place in American life, but it is strange that oil companies do not see the ridiculousness of those long rows of gas stations, each barely "getting by."

We have always hoped it would not become necessary for governmental agencies to police oil companies in their location of service stations.

It would be better if the companies found some way of policing themselves before a trend toward limiting gas stations develops from necessity among the civic agencies.

PARK THANKS

Dear Editor:

For many of us there was deep disappointment in the failure of the proposed county parks bond issue to receive the necessary two to one vote at Tuesday's election.

Our county's net per capita overlapping bond debt for all purposes is about $236 and the park bonds would have added about $18 to this amount.

Ordinarily the money borrowed under a bond issue is exchanged for buildings or bridges or highways or some other asset which by its very nature may be expected to decline in value.

In this case about two-thirds of the amount was to go for land, the supply of which is forever limited and which therefore may with confidence be expected to grow in value over the years. Certainly this growth in value may be expected to exceed the three per cent or so per annum which the county would pay for money borrowed under a bond issue.

To those of us who were proponents, the county's proposal seemed sound and presented a chance for the judicious use of credit to supply a need which must inevitably be filled.

In spite of the outcome there has been a great deal of gratification in the whole-hearted cooperation of the press throughout the county and in the dedicated, self-sacrificing service of the thousands of public-spirited citizens who gave of their time and energy in an all-out effort to win that difficult two to one majority.

May both the press and these citizens have another chance in the not too distant future to try again. And may another try bring success.

Now children, let the day be calm,
Devoid of any riot . . .

Needs Peace & lots of Quiet. (Quiet!)
Clutch tight your precious presents,
The sport shirts, socks & ties,
(The bills, for which, he'll get next month)
We'll take him by surprise!

With kisses on the cheek,
AND giggling girls & noisy boys,
Go bashful, shy & meek.
It's Father's Day, it's Father's Day,
For Dads of all variety.
We couldn't live without 'em in
THIS MODERN Day society!
FOR DAD it is who leads the scouts,
Who patches up the roof,
Who is the strong protector when the
Strange new dog goes WOOF!
And Dad it is who plays the host,
Who barbecues the wieners,
Who coaches boys in Summer League . . .
Who chauffeurs all the teeners.
IT'S POP who pays, who foots the bill
For shoes & dental braces,
Who puts the jingle in your pockets,
With matching grins on faces,
IT'S DAD who goes to meetings,
Who serves as civic leader,
Who dotes & votes & also notes the
Progress in child's Reader.
IT'S DAD who treats the icecream cones,
Who pays for all the vittles . . .
Who commutes daily & knows Life is

It's Dad who mends the fences,
It's Pop who plants the trees,
It's Dad who likes a Ham on Rye &

It's Father who is sometimes stern,
Who orders you to chores,
Who puts his foot down firmly
When you skirmish on the floors.
IT'S DAD who smells of pipe tobacco,
A lapel carnation or Old Spice cologne,
Especially when he's called upon
To act as Chaperone.

NEED STRENGTH

Dear Editor:

It came as quite a surprise to hear chairman Kretzmer of the Contra Costa Junior College District Governing Board announce at 10 p.m. on May 28 that the board would adjourn to executive session to discuss personnel matters and afterward return to regular session the same night.

At least one member of the board, Harmon K. Howard of Walnut Creek, expressed dismay at the chairman's expecting the public gathering to wait until a possibly long deliberation in executive session was over for the resumed public appearance of the board that night.

At 12 midnight, the chairman announced passage of a resolution terminating the contract of Superintendent McCunn on June 30, 1962. The board voted 4-1 for the resolution with the lone dissenting voice of Howard. Thank you, Howard, for the courage of your convictions. For once "togetherness" for its own sake was loudly though by ONE dissent, put down.

Many people of the community did not suspect the possibility of a final midnight curtain call for the superintendent. In no local newspaper was there any suggestion of such action. If there had been, more people would have attended, I'm sure.

Thus another coup d'etat was pulled by the chairman. He had been known to say one thing and do exactly the opposite for no rhyme or reason. We, the public, have had enough and will do everything possible to find out whose interests this board of directors serves.

But what is curious is the fact that some kind of advance notice had been spread to supporters of the CTA report. On hand for the first time were at least six law enforcement officers to quell any disturbance.

There was no disturbance, nor would there have been even if the public had been more fully informed of the intended actions of the board chairman, for I feel that the people of Contra Costa County who respect parliamentary and constitutional procedure would not resort to physical violence or riot. We know that every man is innocent until proven guilty before a legitimately constituted court here in the United States of America.

We do not need self-appointed mutual admiration societies, such as the CTA and all its affiliates so obviously appear to be, to evaluate or pass on the performance fo administrators or teachers.

One correction, please, this time the CTA, CASA, CSBA and the Personnel Standards Commission admired only one thing: power. Power to silence public concern for an administrator who subscribed his name to exposing communism and upholding American ideals and traditions.

What we do need is a governing board that will show strength and courage before any situation reaches the outrageous proportions as with the case presently before it.

How to Compose Gems Of Wisdom in 1 Sentence!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN and Others

I have always wanted to be a "paragrapher."

You know, to be able to write one brilliant sentence or paragraph—jammed-packed with pearls of wisdom, humor and a delight to read.

I've never been able to do it. If I start to write one paragraph about a subject, it comes out of the typewriter as 20 graphs. But today I'm going to do it, because I've been clipping pearls of wisdom from other papers. Here goes:

There was a time when the glimpse of a lady's ankle thrilled the young man-about-town. Today he shuts his eyes when he catches a glimpse of a woman's knobby knees.—Sparta (Ill.) News-Plaindealer.

Letters to The Editor

ONE-SIDED FORUM!

Dear Editor:

I attended the "textbook censoring" meeting at Acalanes High School Friday night. Midst 6-or-800 people I felt very lonesome. The great majority of the people attending apparently came to hear and applaud a very one-sided account of a critical community problem. I would be remiss if I didn't make some comments!

While the gathering was billed as a Town Hall Meeting, it fell far short of fulfilling the qualifications of this hallowed American institution. Traditionally, such meetings are give-and-take affairs in which an issue is aired from all angles.

It is true that people holding opposing views were "invited" to participate, but this was a mere formality and, in fact, one of the gimmicks of the affair. The pre-meeting publicity, carried largely by one local newspaper, left no doubt that the purpose was anything but fact-finding and decision-making.

It would have been a brave and foolish individual who would have attempted to present viewpoints contradicting those presented. If there could have been any question concerning the nature of the occasion, the opening tone of the meeting quickly established that was not to be a free discussion.

Frank Iszak, the first panel member has apparently suffered severe indignities and atrocities at the hands of the Hungarian Communists. However, his presentation showed that he is without any deep understanding of either the public school curriculum or the concepts of freedom in education.

In criticizing what he felt was a reasonable failure to require enrollment in a course of American history at the junior colleges, he took no cognizance of the fact that our students are given a thorough background in American history before they enter college. Moreover, he and an alarming number of other people seem to feel that the sole purpose of education is indoctrination by carefully selected methods and resource materials.

If we must oppose the Soviet threat by such techniques, it is an intolerably high price to pay. Democracy is founded upon the concept that free and knowledgeable people will choose freedom as their way of life. Any limitation upon the 'freedom to know" is a crushing burden upon free people!

The second panel member, George Crocker, is a well-spoken and seemingly scholarly man. Riding upon what were some occasionally valid criticisms of one or two books, he quixotically charged out with blasts against other texts.

Having twice read Ruth Benedict's "Patterns of Culture," I discussed the book with a number of other well-educated people who have studied it. None were able to substantiate Mr. Crocker's charge that it glorifies socialism and discredits capitalism.

Mr. Crocker's out-of-context reading from "A Primer of Freudian Psychology" was an accurate verification of the aphorism, "Filth is a product of the mind." Deliberately selecting the more sensational passabes, Mr. Crocker manipulated his listeners to a fever pitch.

The wrap-up was in the question and answer period. The majority of the audience, now thoroughly conditioned to accept as absolute truth whatever came from the podium, was ready for the question and answer period.

Mr. Stoddard took the floor and proceeded to apply "Stoddard's Rules of Order." Questions were written down and presented to Stoddard. These questions consistent with the prevailing philosophy were handled routinely, although without depth of thought.

Questions tending to be critical never had a chance. They were garbled in the reading. I can only assume that Mr. Stoddard did this deliberately or else he is a middle-aged example of the "Johnny can't read" problem.

In any event, after derisive hoots from the audience, these questions were thrown aside with no serious attempt being made to answer them.

After the Friday night "Town Hall Meeting" I can only cry out, "Friends look about you! The Soviet bear paws at the gates of the city, but there are neo-fascist lions roaming the streets!"

Jean Gardner Becomes Mrs. David R. James

The former Jean Valerie Gardner was a stunning blonde bride as she walked down the aisle of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, at 4 p.m. Saturday. Her father, Captain Ott Gardner, gave her in marriage to David Robert James.

Jean is one of the three lovely daughters of Capt. and Mrs. Ott Gardner, 140 Paulson Lane, Walnut Creek. Her sister, Barbara, was graduated from Las Lomas High School last night. Her youngest sister, Sandra, was graduated from Parkmead Junior High School Wednesday night.

Jean graduated from Las Lomas and attended DV and Armstrong Business College.

A reception for 175 in the parish hall followed the church service, which was conducted by the Rev. Alfred Secombe. Mrs. Jean Henry decorated the church and the hall.

The church was done in white with an abundance of bells and satin bows. At each pew, a bow was arranged with a spray of ivy.

The decor of the parish hall was pink and white. The bride's table had a skirt of more than 24 yards of netting. The centerpiece carried out the pink and white theme.

Football Season Is Not Far Off

Pete Villa, head coach of the LaMorinda Thunderbirds Pop Warner football team announced this week that anyone who did not register to try out for the team at the schools will get another chance to sign up after July 1.

Villa said forms will be available at Tommie Horton's Cleaners, located next to the old Post Office Building, 235 Brookwood Road.

Boys who did sign up at school will receive their notices in the mail in July.

A meeting of all boys who sign up for the team will be held July 28, Villa said.

THE LOCAL TEAM, about to embark on its third season of operation, posted a 6-2 record last year after winning only one game in its initial season.

All boys, between 12 and 15, living within the boundaries of the Acalanes High School District and the San Ramon High School District are eligible for the local team.

Any boy who does not turn 15 until after September 1 is eligible as is any boy who is 12 before September 12.

The Thunderbirds compete in the East Bay Division of the Northern California Pop Warner Football Conference which now has expanded to 10 teams.

Pleasant Hill is one of the new entries this year. Other teams are Concord, West Contra Costa (San Pablo), Sacramento, Livermore, Vallejo, Pittsburg, Martinez and Oakland.

PRACTICE begins August 4 for the local team with the Thunderbirds' first of eight games slated for September 23 at Livermore.

A football jamboree featuring all 10 league teams will be held September 9 at Miramonte's field in honor of the Thunderbirds' founder and president, Joe Dame who died last December. An Orinda resident, he was the league's first president.

Each team will play two quarters of requlation football starting at 1:30 p.m.

Villa said the team directors hope to hold the event annually. It will officially be called "The Joe Dame Memorial Pop Warner Football Jamboree."

Also on tap for the local team is an overnight trip to Sacramento where they will play the local Pop Warner team and tour the capitol as well.

Bob McAdam Bowls 'Perfect Game'

Bob McAdam of Lafayette, rolled a perfect 300 game recently at Manor Bowl, San Leandro, in the East Bay Singles Classic.

His last three strikes were "Brooklyn" hits.

Plaudits from Post for Dave Weill of WC

Big Dave Weill (6-7, 265) of Walnut Creek, Stanford's ace discus thrower, is featured in this week's Post Magazine in a section called "People On The Way Up."

Weill, a junior, who has tossed the discus 189 feet, 11 inches, is considered a good bet to break the U.S. and world records in his senior year and will likely be top man in this field by the time the 1964 Olympics roll around.

According to Post, Stanford track coach (and Olympic track coach) Payton Jordan says that Weill will break the national (190-6½) and world (199-2½) records and will be over 200 feet by the 1964 Olympic games.

He also says that this year he will throw the discus farther than any other college athlete before him.

Weill, a straight A student at Las Lomas High School, is majoring in electrical engineering at Stanford and is maintaining a near-A average there.

Weill joined the track team only after suffering a knee injury while playing freshman football.

PH Pop Warner Signups Slated

Sign-ups for the Pleasant Hill Pop Warner football team will be held on Saturday, June 23, and Saturday, June 30, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Recreation District office on Gregory Lane.

There will be a registration fee of $1. Each boy must be accompanied by one of his parents at the sign-up. The fee is for insurance.

All boys are insured through the team and are given complete physical examinations at the beginning of the season.

A BOY must have reached his 12th birthday by September 1 and cannot have reached his 15th birthday on or before September 15 to qualify for the team.

At no time can a boy exceed the weight limit of 130 pounds. He must also live within the Pleasant Hill Recreation District.

Boys playing Pop Warner football must maintain good scholastic standings. Any boy not maintaining the minimum average prescribed by his school will be automatically suspended from the squad.

The Pleasant Hill Rebels are sponsored by the Pleasant Hill Recreation and Park District. Stewart Osmer, team president, says, "We greatly appreciate the support given us by our local recreation district, especially in the other areas of uniform procurement, practice field arrangements and clerical assistance.

Pop Warner football was originated in Philadelphia over 20 years ago. Since its inauguration almost 2 million boys have participated in the program without serious injury.

There are two leagues in the Bay Area.

The Rebels will be playing eight league games in the coming season.

Orindan Wins At Tilden Park

Mrs. W. B. Adams of Orinda was the Class B winner in the Medal Sweepstakes held by Tilden Park Women's Golf Club last week.

Mrs. Adams fired a 102-27-75.

Runnerup was Mrs. Robert Pierson of Lafayette with a 101-24-77. Mrs. E. Hansen of Lafayette tied for third with a 107-24-80.

The Class A winner was Mrs. Wesley Jenkins with a 72.

Mrs. H. Bartholomew was the "low putt" winner, using only 27.

Mr. Baseball of W.C.-- Laf., PH Leagues Open

By HEC HANCOCK

They don't call him Mr. Baseball in Walnut Creek for nothing.

While Mel Alamano has retired at least for now from the baseball wars, he has compiled a record that won't be duplicated for quite some time, if ever.

Mel went to the post with five ball clubs, and came up on time each time. That in itself is an admirable record, but the one thing that is more impressive is the number of youngsters that have played for him that have gone on to be All-League in their high school competition.

From Acalanes, Bob Gillham, shortstop; Tom Strain, pitcher; Stu Fox, second base; Jack Carmen, catcher, and John Paul Jones, outfielder, got an early start under Mel.

At Las Lomas, Bob Morris, third base; Harold Stephenson, catcher; Bill Remy, pitcher; Mike Breuleaux, outfielder; Bob Samuels, catcher, and son Tommy Alamano, center fielder, all benefitted from Mel's tutelage.

Roger and Anthony Guichard, pitcher and catcher for St. Joseph's in Alameda, were a couple more of Mel's boys.

All have one thing in common. They were All-League in the area where they played their high school ball, after being pointed in that direction by Mel Alamano.

The balloon goes up this weekend for both Lafayette and Pleasant Hill baseball programs.

Pleasant Hill will kick things off tomorrow with short opening day ceremonies at Pleasant Hill recreation park.

Lafayette will get under way, sans festivities, Monday afternoon. In addition to the baseball program, the Lafayette Youth Association also sponsors a tennis and swimming program. Those in Lafayette area wishing to participate in the tennis program may still do so by signing up June 18. Those still wishing to avail themselves of the swimming instruction are advised to sign up at Acalanes June 19.

A new league for high school baseballers is currently being organized. Tentatively to be designated the Sports and Games League, it will include representatives from Acalanes, San Ramon, College Park, Piedmont and Pacifica high schools.

The league will be made up for all intents and purposes of next year's varsity teams from the competing schools.

Games will be played at Del Valle, San Ramon, Acalanes and Pacifica. A schedule is in the process of being put together.

Las Lomas and Del Valle have expressed interest at joining such a loop next season, but held up this year in deference to the Walnut Creek baseball program which is already in action.

To have put teams in the league from Las Lomas and Del Valle would have meant wrecking the high school league in the Walnut Creek program.

Since there isn't a Connie Mack league (16-19-year-olds) operating in the area this season, this league should serve a real need.

Homers in the Walnut Creek junior baseball program are not exactly a rarity.

In this respect we salute Allan Carson of the Air Force Falcons and Kirt Guerisoli of Walnut Creek Canning, both of the Walnut Creek Coast League, for their big "grand slam" blows.

Two Local Swimmers Set Marks

Two local swimmers set national individual Junior Olympic records last weekend in the ninth annual Northern California Junior Olympic swimming and diving championships held at Encina High School in Sacramento.

Three local AAU swim clubs competed in the meet — the Aquabears, Walnut Hills Swim Club and Pleasant Hill Swim Club. Two Aquabears relay teams also set national records.

Susie Barkley, 16, of Orinda, swimming for the Aquabears, set a new mark in the 200-yard individual medley with a time 2:24.0. The old record, set in 1958 and one of the oldest records on the books for the Junior Olympics, was 2:24.8.

The other national record was set by Bob Strand of the Walnut Hills Swim Club. Strand won the 15-16 200-yard breaststroke in 2:24.6.

TWO AQUABEAR relay team national Junior Olympic records gave the local team three records of the 16 set in the two-day meet.

In the 15-16 200-yard freestyle relay, the team of Bob Kammeyer, Charles Schillinsky, Dick Jacobberger and Bob Savage set a new mark of 1:32.9 breaking the record of 1:36 set last year by an Aquabear team.

Miss Barkley also took part in breaking another national record.

As part of the Aquabears 15-16 200-yard freestyle team, she combined with Karen Handlery, Donna Selet and Mary Jacoby to post a new record time of 1:50.5. The old record was 1:52.7.

DONNA DE VARONA, still of Lafayette, but soon moving to Santa Clara, swimming unattached, set two records in the meet. She won the 15-16 100-yard butterfly in 1:02.4 and the 100-yard backstroke in 1:03.7.

The Aquabears also posted three new top times for the Northern California Junior Olympics.

Jacobberger set new standards in both the 50-yard freestyle and 100-yard freestyle for boys 15-16.

With Duke Gibbs of Orinda taking Savage's place on the 15-16 relay team, the Aquabears set another record—this time in the 200-yard medley relay.

BESIDES setting one national record and helping to set another, Miss Barkley placed in three other events.

Strand, besides his record, won the 100-yard backstroke and finished second in the individual medley.

The Pleasant Hill Swim Club had no winners. However, they placed 16 swimmers in the finals with a fourth place the best effort.

The following local youngsters placed in the Junior Olympic finals:

AQUABEARS

Duke Gibbs, Peter Schnugg, Sandy York, David Mirov, Bob Markstein, Margaret Traeumer, Donna Salet, Marilee Rocca, Midge Myers and Melissa Mattingly.

For 50 cents, the range is open to use of any youngster with his own equipment each Saturday and Sunday during the summer months from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The four clubs, Baypoint Rod and Gun, Concord Sportsmen, Walnut Creek Sportsmen and Diablo Rod and Gun, have qualified instructors on hand at all times when the range is open.

The range is located on the north side of Highway 4 (Arnold Industrial Highway), just each of Concord Naval Ammunition Depot and west of the Willow Pass intersection.

All youngsters are welcome and they do not have to be a member to use the range.

The four clubs combined to purchase the property and they pool their resources to provide a qualified national rifle instructor at the range during the weekend hours.

'Greatest Shopping Center On Earth' Is Broadway's

You will be convinced that Broadway Shopping Center is the "greatest shopping center on earth," when you come visiting this weekend.

B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association, said, "We know we have the proof-positive for this statement, which may seem a little wild at first."

He added, "If you think we are wrong, drop by tomorrow and be converted!

"You know, Broadway since its completion in 1951 has been considered a hallmark shopping center of the East Bay.

"But its reputation didn't stop there. It has drawn the attention of eastern developers and merchandising chieftains.

"That we are considered a 'national' institution might make the most wary, sophisticated and jaded of our residents and customers raise one eyebrow.

"But they will raise both of them when they see what's cooking, starting tomorrow.

"Now I know some of the people will want to ask a hundred questions about this, before they pile into the auto and come and see for themselves.

"But a lot of their questions are answered by the ads in this special edition of The Sun.

"Look 'em over," Horne invited.

Broadway Shopping Center has an outstanding selection of national brands, according to Bill Schatz, manager of Smiths, Walnut Creek.

Schatz said that consumers today have been demanding manufacturers' advertised brands of merchandise, and surveys show why.

Main reasons given are: 1, confidence in the known brand; 2, guarantees which they can rely on; 3, quality of the product.

In turn, the building of customer confidence encourages a company to move ahead into research and development fields.

Terry Stinnett, who graduated pre-med from Stanford Univrsity last week, is "switching caps" to operate on some cakes. It's a "Greatest Shopping Center on Earth" demonstration at his folks' pastry shop and you are invited. Come in this Friday afternoon between 2 and 5 and watch Terry decorate, then partake of some samples of his handiwork. You'll find them beautifully delicious. Decorated cakes, especially wedding, are a specialty at STINNETT'S PASTRY SHOP, 1236 South Broadway, Walnut Creek.

If you are a young lady between 12 and 21 and you'd like to turn part of your summer to learning to sew, here's an opportunity, with a chance of winning a prize to boot. The 1962 Singer Young Stylemaker Contest to prize is is a trip to Paris and there are lots of other prizes.

There are still some openings in the July and August special sewing courses at SINGER SEWING CENTER, 1417 Broadway Plaza. Join the course and the contest and you can make your entry while you learn to sew. Come in and get the details soon and ask about the big fashion show too.

Betty bought a better letter . . .

you can, too, at CONTRA COSTA STATIONERS, 1410 Broadway Plaza, Walnut Creek, or 15 Fiesta Lane, Lafayette.

Your name or monogram FREE with stationery

This week's special is a selected group of fine quality boxed stationery by Eatons or Montag. The price is $1.95 and what is extra special about it is . . . your name or monogram will be added right in the store at no extra cost.

Contra Costa Stationers is THE place for really clever little gifts. For just a dollar or two you can get a just-right gift for Bon Voyage, Father's Day, Graduation or Birthdays. They have bigger gifts too, but I'm talking about those hard-to-find little gifts . . . each one an idea! It's the "Greatest Selection on Earth" . . . to stretch it just a little.

A short time ago VAN METER'S SHOE REPAIR SHOP at 1254 South Broadway was robbed, and last Saturday night his home was robbed . . . of his lovely daughter, Elizabeth Marie Van Meter, now known as Mrs. Charles Eastman. What with the wedding and the graduation of his youngest, this is a happy, busy time at the Van Meters. Not too busy, though, for George to take good care of your shoes and keep up his speaking engagements. June 14 he'll be giving his talk on "Medicine Shows" to the Concord division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board. In this he really roasts TV, "the biggest Medicine Show of them all." If you get a chance to hear this at your club sometime, don't miss it. With his satire, I think George Van Meter should be known as the Mark Twain of Walnut Creek.

Grand Jury Reports on Special Districts

If it is necessary to create special districts, they should be set up under the control of boards of supervisors utilizing county personnel, according to recommendations of the Grand Jury reporting on public works and special districts.

Devoting the major portion of its report to special districts, the committee skimmed over public works concluding that "this phase of our county government is operated very efficiently and is doing an outstanding job."

The committee recommended that employees in the special districts be incorporated in the county civil service system "whenever the Board of Supervisors has the authority."

Special districts should not be formed at all if traditional agencies of government (state, county and citw) can give the services desired without creating tax inequities, the report continued.

"The county service area law should be used to the maximum extent practicable for providing ncessary special district services."

Once a special district has fulfilled its purpose, it should be dissolved, says the report, and all monies remaining should be returned to the County General Fund.

"The Board of Supervisors should take the necessary action to require a bond to cover the costs of elections. Costs of special elections should not be distributed as cost to all taxpayers, as is the present practice."

The report concluded that all special district budgets and programs should be subject to review and adjustment by the Board of Supervisors.

Smikahl was chosen at the annual organization meeting of the chamber's newly elected board, along with three new officers and four new directors.

Selected as first vice president was James "Ed" Neighbor, sales manager of Diablo Printing Company. J. P. Named to one year terms as directors-at-large were Thomas Henze, Vance Haswell and J. H. "Nick" Carter. Paul Nave' received the appointment to fill a one year unexpired term on the board.

SMIKAHL, who will succeed George B. Webster as president, has been administrator of the Kaiser Hospital since 1957. He is a former assistant administrator of the Oakland Kaiser unit, and served as director of administrative services for Fresno County Hospital.

A native of San Francisco, the president-elect is a graduate of S.F. City College, and a graduate of the University of California with a BS degree in public health.

He also holds a master of public health degree from the University of California. A veteran of the hospital corps in the U.S. Navy, Smikahl is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators and the Association of Western Hospitals.

An active Chamber of Commerce worker, he has served as a director since 1959; on the budget, governmental affairs and planning development committees; chairman of the program and budget committees; served as chamber treasurer, and is completing a term as first vice president.

Smikahl is a member of the local Rotary Club, the executive committee of the Cancer Society, past co-chairman of the area United Crusade, past president of the Kai-Perm Federal Credit Union, and has served as a committee chairman, director and vice persident of the Walnut Festival Association.

He and his wife, June, are parents of 4-year-old John and 2-year-old Diane. The family resides at 60 Ina Court, Alamo, and have been residents of the area for the past five years.

Annual installation activities of the new officer corp and directors, recognition of outgoing officers, directors and committee chairmen, are being planned for Thursday night, June 28, at the Walnut Creek Elks Club.

Hi-Y Officers Assume Posts

Wayne Weatherly of Mt. Diablo High School has been named president of the Hi-Y Leaders Council with two Las Lomas girls — Linda Kanewake and Sally Frost — selected as vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

The election was held at the last conference of the student leaders at the Walnut Creek Methodist Church. John Bankert of College Park High School was named chaplain.

Membership in the council is open to officers and advisors of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of the Mt. Diablo YMCA. Its purpose is to provide officer training and to coordinate area YMCA high school program.

Clubs represented on the council at this time include: Mt. Diablo Hi-Y (Wayne Weatherly), Mt. Diablo Hi-Y #2 (Mike Huyck), Pacifica Hi-Y (Don Korpi), Pleasant Hill Hi-Y (Roger Bise), College Park Hi-Y (Ed Kuhn), Las Lomas Tri-Hi-Y (Linda Kanewske), Pacifica Tri-Hi-Y (Rebecca Lucero), Clayton Valley Tri-Hi-Y (Linda Henderson).

Other clubs, now being formed at Pleasant Hill, Las Lomas, Miramonte, Mt. Diablo, College Park and San Ramon, are expected to join the council soon.

The next meeting of the council is scheduled for Tuesday in the social hall of the Walnut Creek Methodist Church.

Final plans for a joint Hi-Y/Tri-Hi-Y spring picnic at Stinson Beach will be discussed at this meeting. All Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y club officers and advisors are urged to attend.

Music Town Opening Its New Center

Open to the public beginning this weekend, is Music Town's TV and Stereo Center at 1427 Broadway in the Broadway Shopping Center.

The center will feature RCA color and black and white TV, Curtis-Mathis TV and stereo and many other major brands such as Zenith, G.E. Motorola and others.

A unique feature will be the center's home setting, carpets, drapes and appointments.

This will enable the prospective buyer to see and hear equipment in its proper atmosphere.

The "Period Room" will feature TV and Stereo in French and Italian style as well as a large selection of Early American maple.

The "Modern Room" will offer many Danish modern and oriental pieces.

Music Town's other location at 1244 Broadway will have additional space to bring an even greater selection of classical, popular, jazz and children's records.

Pony-Tail Shop Air Conditioned

Solving an engineering problem which had thwarted previous attempts to provide for the comfort of their customers, the Klad-Ezee Pony-Tail Shop at 1432 Broadway Plaza is now expanding air-conditioning to its second floor.

Shop Evenings At Broadway; It's for Family

Broadway Shopping Center is open both Monday and Friday nights. Most of the major stores are also open Thursday nights.

This makes it easy for the entire family to have a leisurely dinner and go shopping together, according to B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

He said evening shopping at Broadway can be combined with other evening activities, and avoids the rush-rush of pre-dinner closing on two important days.

Parking? It's Easy!

It is easy to park in Broadway Shopping Center.

There are 2400 parking spaces available, and you can find your spot in almost any part of the center, making walking short and easy.

Even on the busiest days, there is a space for you in the place you prefer.

Supervisors to Ponder Transit At July 12 Meet

Contra Costa County's link in the rapid-transit chain is due to be forged at a public hearing at 10 a.m. on July 12 in the chambers of the board of supervisors.

That is the time when approval by the county officials would give final sanction to having the Bay Area Rapid Transit District financing put on the November ballot.

A composite report on the transit plans was given to the supervisors at this week's meeting by directors Harry L. Morrison Jr., Marvin Joseph and H. L. Cummings.

Under the basic plan of BARTD two legs of the total 75-mile rail setup would serve Contra Costa County. One of the rail lines would run directly to Concord and the other would terminate in Richmond.

Members of the board were reminded that they had scheduled an early study of possible bus feeder systems to serve outlying areas.

Supervisors Edmund Linscheid and Joseph Silva made the reminder and asserted that many of their constituents would vote against the measure if they felt they would be forced to drive to nearby district stations of the transit system instead of having bus feeder lines.

Under the law the supervisors must either approve or reject the BARTD plan within 15 days of the public hearing.

For the Birds . . .

Who Was That Red-Top Feathered Friend?

By BARBARA BEDAYN

Q. What's that little red headed bird nesting over our door?

A. Linnet or house finch. He'll repay you for that extra sweeping up with his elaborate and really pretty song.

* * *

Q. I saw a yellow bird with a black V sitting on the freeway fence. He was singing.

A. There's a brown streaked back behind that bright yellow breast with its bold black V. Enjoy the rippling song of the western meadowlark while you may; the bulldozers will get him if we don't watch out!

* * *

Q. I tried to shoot a big black hawk. It was flying around in circles. It was too high; BBs couldn't get it.

A. A big hawk-like bird with heavy black shoulder markings would be a turkey vulture or buzzard, the flying carrion collector. Just as well your BBs couldn't reach it; it's against the law to shoot it, young man, and it's a mighty useful garbage collector, besides.

* * *

Q. What's the little cup-shaped nest hung in the tips of my oak branch, high over the roof? The birds are yellowish grey with a faint line over the eye.

A. This sounds like a good description of a warbling vireo and its nest. They're here for the summer.

* * *

Q. There's a little brown streaked bird nesting in a vine over our back door. Every time we slam the door the mother bird flies off. Will the eggs hatch?

A. Nine chances out of 10 that's another linnet or house finch. The female has no red) and she's quite likely to dessert her nest if sufficiently bothered.

(Barbara Bedayn will answer bird questions sent to The Sun, Lafayette. Please don't phone your questions, write.)

Weeding Lawn Not Too Bad

Weeding a lawn is no longer much of a job, what with the weed killers available.

Weed controls can be spread evenly over a lawn of fine bladed grasses, but they should be spotted where needed when clover and dichondra are present. Be sure to read the directions on the label. Even crabgrass is easily controlled by modern methods when they are correctly applied.

Bermuda grass, on the other hand, is still a problem, and short of digging it up and starting from scratch, there is no really effective control.

Bermuda grass is not a weed. It is a grass, and when properly cared for, it can become a satisfactory lawn.

At least once a year in May or early June Bermuda grass should be stiffly raked with a special steel rake and all the matted runners should be cut to the nub.

Motor vehicles in the United States travel 738 billion miles a year, according to the National Automobile Club.

PG&E Selects Paul Matthew as 'Steam Manager'

Paul Matthew, 381 Cordelia Way, Walnut Creek, has been appointed manager of steam generation in Pacific Gas and Electric Company, effective July 1, to succeed Vivian F. Estcourt, who will retire after 39 years' service with the company.

Announcement of the retirement and appointment was made by S. L. Sibley, vice president and general manager of PG&E.

Electricity generated in fuel-burning plants has become the dominant source of energy for Northern and Central California in the past 16 years, reversing the principal role of hydroelectric plants which existed at the end of World War II, Sibley said.

Today the company has more than 4 million kilowatts of generating capacity installed in 14 steam-electric plants, double the approximately 2 million kilowatts in its 62 hydroelectric plants.

Matthew, who will assume direction of the operation of the steam plants, is a native of Oakland and a graduate of the University of Southern California

Hiway Group Gives List Of Priorities

Greatest construction and right-of-way needs in the county are on State Route 4 from Highway 40 to the San Joaquin County line, according to the Contra Costa Highway Advisory Committee.

The committee presented its improvement and development recommendations for the 1963-64 fiscal year to the State Chamber of Commerce's central coast highway committee last week.

The committee proposed the completion of right-of-way buying and the start of construction on Hoffman Freeway from the Golden Gate Fields to the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, a total of 7.5 miles; State Route 21 from one mile south of Danville to Alameda County line, 6.5 miles, and State Route 75 from Solano Way to Willow Pass north of Concord, 5.5 miles.

The committee urged the establishment of routes to protect right of way for the Shepherd Canyon Freeway and Ygnacio Valley and Kirker Pass roads from State Route 75 near Walnut Creek to Route 72 near Pittsburg.

A report by state highway representatives said almost $35 million worth of construction is now under way in the county and projects totaling $1,732,400 have been completed during the fiscal year ending July 1.

Grape Vine Is Fine for Shade, Fruit or Wine!

The grape arbor is one of the most satisfying canopies under which the sun-weary gardener can repose, for not only shade but fruit is provided. And in winter, when sun is no longer a bother, the grape sheds its leaves to admit wanted light. Talk about climate control.

June is not the usual planting time for grapes, but it's the time we think of planting them, and fortunately, many California Association of Nurserymen members have a supply of container-grown grape vines.

BE SURE to follow your local CAN member's advice as to variety, because local climate differences make it impossible to offer a general list.

The grape arbor is most effective when grown as an attachment to the house, especially on the south or west exposure. It can project no more than eight or 10 feet out from the house wall, or it can extend considerably further.

Plant a vine at each support post and prune out side growth during the first dormant season. The idea is to encourage a strong leader to climb each post onto the trellis top.

OTHER THAN the grape, most summer-shading vines are evergreen and their winter foliage should be considered before planting. Will it be wanted or unwanted when the time comes?

Vines Are Very Useful--And Beautiful, Too

When you think of summer shade, are your thoughts only for trees? Or have you known the beauty and usefulness of the vine fabric in warding off rays of a hot summer sun or wind?

Vine covevred arbors and trellises should become an integral part of architecture in the warmer areas of California. They are nature's own air-conditioners and will absorb the solar blast like nothing which hammer and nails can put together. The presence of green foliage overhead is mentally as well as physically cooling for someone who sits underneath.

In coastal areas, too, the vine covered trellis can provide protection from afternoon glare and the reflection of sun off water.

Tips for a Lovelier Green Lawn Carpet

You hear an occasional dissent, but most gardeners agree that the well groomed lawn does more than anything else to beautify a garden. Despite this agreement, however, it's a fact that every neighborhood has its share of rag tag carpets of green.

POOR LAWNS are sometimes due to neglect, but often as not the owner of a needy lawn works as hard or harder than the man whose lawn is always perfct. He waters frequently, mows methodically, even feeds it, or thinks he does. What, then, makes the difference, and what can be done about it?

If you ask a member of the California Association of Nurserymen about this, he'll tell you unequivocally that the big difference in lawns is hidden from the eye. In other words, it's what you have down under the blades of grass that counts, and no amount of fiddling with what's on top will make up for a soil that lacks the basic ingredients of success.

IF YOU have a spotty lawn, one that never seems to look healthy, wait until after you've watered next time, then make a core of earth and inspect it.

Feeding lightly every month is far preferable to heavy meals every three months as once was thought to be best. The lawn that is regularly mowed is far easier to keep trim than one which has been let go. Watering, too, should be a regular thing, but you will find that healthy, well-fed lawns need far less water than unhealthy lawns.

MOWING, of course, is the key to a beautiful lawn, as even the healthiest bed of grass will look shabby when it's left unmowed. During summer, set the mower to cut grass about two inches high, or slightly higher than you would in winter.

Leaving grass longer in summer reduces the loss of water by evaporation and also provides shade for its own roots from the hot summer sun. Mowing is often more difficult than it should be due to the use of antiquated mowers. A new mower is time and effort saved.

Summer Session Registration Ends Monday

Registration cards, class notices, and bus information have been mailed to 8200 prospective summer school students in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District.

High school students will register on Saturday, June 16, at Pleasant Hill High School starting at 8 a.m. Classes will begin on June 18 in five primary schools, two intermediate, one high school, and one fine arts school and will close on July 27.

The 8200 applicants represent a large increase over previous years and will help the schools to offer a larger and more varied program that will not only help the student who feels he can benefit from extra instruction in the basic subjects, but will provide enriching experiences for every student who attends.

The summer program offers the chance for pupils and teachers to explore new areas and try new learning techniques.

Delta Construction Is Delayed Pending Action

Contra Costa County was told last week that the State Department of Water Resources intends to defer construction of any physical works in the Delta for export of water to southern California until a "compatible" project can be planned and approved.

The statement was made by William Warne, director, State Department of Water Resources, at Buchanan Airport, at a luncheon stop of a southern California water group making an aerial tour of the Delta.

Warne's statement was hailed and welcomed by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors who, serving as the board of directors of the Contra Costa County Water Agency, has consistenly and strenuously opposed the state's "Single Purpose Delta Plan" under which the state has proposed construction of numerous Delta channel barriers to divert water across the Delta for xport to southern California.

County water officials have insisted that no work be done in the Delta until further studies are completed by state, federal and county agencies.

THE VISITING group consisted of more than 30 directors and members of the Los Angeles Metropolitan and San Bernardino Water Districts, the two main contractors for Delta water to be delivered to southern California under the State Bond Act Water Plan, as well as officials and members of the California Water Commission.

Contra Costa County Supervisor Mel F. Neilsen flew northward from Los Angeles with the group which made the luncheon stop at Buchanan Airport, where the delegation was briefed on Delta water problems.

Evening School Accepting Registrations

The Mt. Diablo Evening School is accepting registrations for the summer term, which will begin on June 18.

Thirty-five course offerings are listed on the summer schedule, including classes in art, mathematics, commercial, driver education, English, gardening, gymnastics- reading improvement, sewing, swimming, upholstery, welding and wood shop.

Summer classes are held in the evenings at the Mt. Diablo High School campus in Concord, with the exception of the wood shop classes being offered at Pleasant Hill High School.

Fifty-three adults will receive their high school diplomas this week.

Local Cars Win Awards In Concours d'Elegance

Two Contra Costa County cars won awards for their owners at the Sixth Annual Hillsborough Concours d'Elegance Sunday.

The winning cars belonged to Carl Christensen, of Alamo, and Richard Lenz, of El Cerrito.

Christensen took the coveted "First-in-Class" trophy with his beautifully restored 1933 Cadillac Fleetwood, in Class Q, Closed Cars from 1921 to 1941.

Lenz also placed first-in-class with his entry, a 1953 Jaguar XK-120-M Jaguar drophead, which was competing in Class B, Soft Top Sports Cars from $3,000 to $5,000.

Overall winner of the annual event was a rare 1952 Hudson "Italia," a special Italian-bodied car built on order for the former Hudson Motor Co. The Italia is owned by Robert Colombo, of Orangevale.

Another first-in-class was taken by Jerry Scheberies, in his custom AC roadster, a 1957 model powered by an Oldsmobile F-85 aluminum V-8 engine.

Scheberies is a member of the Diablo Sports Car Team, of Walnut Creek, co-sponsors, with the Concord Shopping Center, of the First Annual Mt. Diablo Concours d'Elegance, Gymkhana and Rally, to be held Saturday, June 2, at Concord Shopping

The three cars mentioned above, as well as many other prize winners, including vintage Rolls Royces, Model A Fords, a 1938 Jaguar SS-100, and scores of other antiques.

Accident Causes Will Be Rehearsed

The role of carbon monoxide, alcohol and drugs as causative factors in single-vehicle fatal accidents will be probed in a research program undertaken jointly by the California Highway Patrol and the California State Coroners Association.

Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said that initially the study will be conducted in 20 counties, including Contra Costa County.

The patrol will gather and analyze data on the accidents themselves, including special information relating to the possible presence of carbon monoxide in the vehicles involved.

Cooperating coroners will conduct post-mortem examinations on fatal victims from the same accidents to determine the presence of carbon monoxide, alcohol or drugs.

"Single vehicle accidents were chosen for the study because this type crash has increased sharply in recent years.

In addition, it is relatively simpler to isolate relevant facts when only one car is involved," the commissioner said.

Brown Ponders Special Session on School Bonds

Governor Edmund G. Brown said today he has asked for a review of enrollment figures and future classroom needs by next Tuesday on which to base a decision whether to call a special session of the legislature to resubmit Proposition 3 to the voters.

The governor's announcement followed a meeting today in San Francisco with Senator Hugo Fisher, author of the bond issue proposition; Senator Hugh Burns, president pro tem of the Senate; Senator George Miller Jr., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee; Assemblyman Jerry Waldie, majority leader; Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the University of California; Dr. Joseph Cosand, president, California Junior College Association, and Louis Heilbron, president of the board of trustees of the State College System.

THE GOVERNOR said:

"These bonds are absolutely necessary if California is to continue its investment in higher education which is the key to our state's prosperity. We lead in the space age, and we lead because these grown industries want to be near our great colleges and university campuses.

"I thin kthere was a misunderstanding on the part of voters about the purpose of the bond issue. I do not believe it was made clear that 80 per cent of the funds were to be used for construction of classrooms, laboratories and other college and university facilities. I am still 100 per cent for them."

As for a special session of the legislature, the governor said he has asked Hale Champion, director of finance, Dr. Clark Kerr, Dr. Glenn Dumke, chancellor of state colleges and Roy Simpson, superintendent of instruction, to prepare memoranda for him on enrollment figures and facility requirements and submit them by next Tuesday . . . He will make his announcement on a special session after he has looked them over.

"I regard this as completely non partisan. I would point out that Richard Nixon supported this bond issue in the primary and I would hope he will continue to support it if a decision is made to put it on the ballot for November."

Federal Aid Alloted to School District

Congressman John F. Baldwin announced that he has been informed by the Commissioner of Education of the United States that favorable action has been taken on the application of the San Ramon Valley Union High School District, Danville, for federal assistance for current expenditures.

Public Law 874 provides for financial assistance for schools in federally-affected areas.

The Commissioner of Education has determined that the tentative entitlement for the San Ramon Valley Union High School District for fiscal year 1962 will be $18,835. Of this sum, $12,996 is being certified for immediate payment.

Sheriff Gives Thanks to County Voters

Sheriff Walter F. Young, successfully re-elected to a second term, released the following statement:

"I sincerely thank the citizens of Contra Costa County for expressing their vote of confidence by electing me sheriff for a second term.

"During my first campaign I pledged a reorganization of the sheriff's department, increased efficiency, higher level of service and to correct the morale situation then existing among the employees of the department.

"I have fulfilled that pledge. The sheriff's department is a very effective, professionalized organization," said Young.

"Employees are dedicated to provide the best possible service. Your vote for me was also an endorsement for the entire department and is greatly appreciated by all members.

"During my second term I shall continue to provide you with a progressive sheriff's department in keeping with the fast growing county we live in," said Young.

Rafael Memorial Is Set Up At Broadway Bank

Friends of Rafael "Ralph" Hernandez, 28, the Walnut Creek janitor who died suddenly last week, have set up a memorial fund for his family.

Rafael leaves two children under two years of age. His wife, Carol, expects their third next month.

Contributions may be made to the Rafael Hernandez Memorial Fund at the Crocker-Anglo Bank, 1342 South Broadway, Walnut Creek.

For further information, phone YE 4-2040.

Good Start for Vines Helps Growth

It is of extreme importance that vines be given a good start in life. Strong top growth results from a strong root growth and provides a large planting hole.

As you would in planting a tree, remove considerably more soil than is necessary and before scooping it back, mix it with steer manure. Then provide a basin to hold irrigation water at the start.

It's this little extra effort to begin with which makes a vine go farther later on.

Rotary Club Bumps Lions in Softball

Officials of the Lafayette Rotary Club reported this week that its softball team defeated the Lafayette Lions Club, 16-8, in a recent game played at Acalanes High School.

However, officials of the Lions Club maintain the score was 13-8, also with the Rotary Club ahead.

The Lions led, 6-1, at the end of the first inning.

A rematch this season is not contemplated by either club.

The Contra Costa Council on Alcoholism is a voluntary group made up of attorneys, physicians, clergymen, and others including representatives from industry and local government.

The council is concerned only with furthering understanding of alcoholism as a treatable disease or mental health problem, and does not take a stand on the "wet" versus "dry" controversy on the sale or use of alcoholic beverages.

The council, in co-operation with the Contra Costa County Tuberculosis and Health Association and the West Contra Costa Chapter of the American Red Cross, sponsors two alcoholism information centers operating within Contra Costa County.

One, located at the Tuberculosis Association, 105 Astrid Drive in Pleasant Hill, serves the central part of the county, and the other at Red Cross headquarters, 3200 Macdonald in Richmond serves the western area.

Both centers are set up to provide information and referral services for problem drinkers and their families, and to coordinate the council's education, rehabilitation, and community serviec activities.
